INDEX OF COMPOSERS	215
---------------------------	-----

P R E F A C E.

NOTWITHSTANDING the large number of English Psalters set to Anglican Chants which are now before the public, the present work is really an attempt to supply a desideratum. During late years a taste for sound Church music has spread very widely throughout the Anglican Churches. The works of our early Church composers have been increasingly appreciated, and Chant Tunes upon their models have been multiplied, until a collection has been found, which, for richness, for variety, and for power of devotional expression, is unsurpassed in any part of Christendom.

The Editor of the Anglican Psalter has endeavoured to utilise this large body of material. Limiting himself to compositions of strictly Ecclesiastical character, he has adapted four different series of chants to each group of the Psalms in their daily course, the selection being made with the most careful regard to the sentiment of each Psalm. These series are numbered 1, 2, 3, and 4, and are set respectively in the same or allied keys, to ensure easy transition. Those in the upper line, Nos. 1 and 2, have been selected as intrinsically the most appropriate to the spirit of the Psalm to which they are appropriated. Series 3 are jubilant in character, and are therefore adapted to festival seasons. The fourth series are plaintive, and suited for more triste or penitential occasions. In no case is the same melody used to more than one group of Psalms throughout the same course. By this means a variety and freshness have been aimed at which have not hitherto been attained. In selecting the chants, care has been taken to avoid those with too high a reciting note.

A melody has also been selected for the Venite for each morning in the month, having special regard to the character of the Psalms which it precedes. The Proper Psalms, with their music, are printed again at large at the end of the book.

That this work may be more generally useful to the Church, provision is made for those verses of the Te Deum in which the American version differs from our own.

Simultaneously with the spread of a sounder taste in Ecclesiastical melody, has been developed the means of producing printed music at a price within the reach of all, even the poorest worshippers. In the production of the Anglican Psalter these opportunities have been fully used, and it is accordingly issued at an unprecedentedly low price.

The system of pointing here adopted is one which the Editor believes to be grounded upon true principles ; its essential plan being to appor-tion, so far as is consistent with correct English accent, one syllable to each musical beat, and to avoid a dissyllable for the final note of both mediation and cadence.* Thus, wherever either of these has the penultimate or ante-penultimate accent in its last word, the two, or three, final syllables have been spread over the last two measures, instead of appropriating them to the last measure only. For example :—

(Penultimate Accent.)

(Ante-penultimate Accent.)

{	For behôld from hênce-forth :	{	That we should be sâved from our é-ne-mies :
{	In glôry év-er-lâst-ing.	{	And to remêmber His hó-ly co-ve-nant.

INSTEAD OF—

{	Fôr behôld from henceforth :	{	That we should be sâved fróm our enemies :
{	În gló-ry ev-er-lasting.	{	Ând to remêmber His ho-ly covenant.

By no other means can a smooth and pleasant method of English chanting be obtained. What, for instance, can be more objectionable and unmusical than to hear words of from two to five or six syllables jumbled together upon one final note, such as “wilderness,” “tabernacle,” “uncharitableness?” In Gregorian chanting, by the varying lengths of the musical cadences, and the alternative notes of some of the Mediations, these difficulties are easily disposed of ; but, owing to the inflexible nature of the Anglican Chant, commonly so-called, another mode of treatment must be used to ensure smoothness ; and that here adopted seems to meet all requirements.

* It has been found absolutely necessary in a few instances to treat the following words as monosyllables when occurring as the finals of either Mediation or Cadence :—“Doer,” “doers,” “doest,” “doing,” “going,” “goings,” “heaven,” “heavens,” “iron,” “liars,” “Peor,” “power,” “prayer.”

Some seven or eight years ago the Editor published in his Matin and Vesper Canticles of Holy Church, a chant of new form, having an alternative note in the Mediation, to suit final words of more than one syllable (which form has lately been adopted in the recently published Psalter, Ancient and Modern) ; but it has been rejected here on account of the impossibility of combining both forms with the system of pointing advocated above.

The pointing marks are those which the Editor has used in his other Church works, in preference to the division of the words by change of type, or by bars, which are found to induce a habit of "jibbing" at the first word after the recitation ; a practice fatal to good chanting.

The Editor's best thanks are due to those gentlemen whose names are attached to their respective chants, for the use of their compositions ; also to the Rev. T. Helmore and Mr. Masters, for that in F by the late W. Dyce ; to Messrs. Novello, for Mr. J. Barnby's Chants in D and E, for two others by Mr. Turle, from the Westminster Chant Book, and for the two Chants by Dr. Stainer, Organist of St. Paul's Cathedral ; to Mr. Blakeley for his Chants from the Canticle Chant Book ; to Mr. Joule for those from his Collection ; and to the Lord Bishop of Lincoln for his Table of the Proper Psalms for Special Occasions.

BRENTWOOD,

Trinity, 1878.

Non vox, sed votum ; non musica chordula, sed cor,
Non clamans, sed amans, psallit in aure Dei.

EXPLANATION OF THE MARKS.

1. (^) The Circumflex implies a slight emphasis on the word or syllable so marked, before leaving the reciting note, except when it is on a word of one syllable which takes also the acute accent (e.g. verses 7, 8, 9, of Te Deum, p. 4, prâisse Thee ; also Ps. xix. 15) ; or the first syllable of a word having the acute accent on the second (e.g. verses 4 and 26 of Te Deum, pp. 4, 5, cônfin-ual-ly ; voûchsâfe ; also Ps. civ. 23, ûntîl) ; in these cases it is simply a guide to the accented syllable. See also Ps. lii. 5 ; Ps. lxxxvi. 10.

2. (') The Acute Accent corresponds with the first minim, or beat, in the chant after the reciting note.

3. (.), ("), or (") The Dot or Dots after the Acute Accent, or Dots only, indicate a corresponding number of beats in either the Mediation or Cadence ; the accent itself being reckoned as one beat. Thus :—

Thê Fâ-ther : Thê Côm-fort-er.

Eschew êvil and dô good. (Ps. xxxiv. 14.)

4. (ˆ) Two syllables, or short words, joined by a Tie, are to be sung to one beat ; or to two short notes of the value of one beat. Thus :—

Unto whôm I swâre inˆMy wrath. (Venite.)

And gîveth lîght un-toˆthe eyes. (Ps. xix. 8.)

The heavens declâre the glô-ryˆof God. (Ps. xix. 1.)

5. (-) Syllables separated by a Hyphen are to be sung to separate notes. Thus :—

Lôrd Gód of Sa-ba-oth. (Te Deum.)

Thêy will be ál-way prais-ing Thee. (Ps. lxxxiv. 4.)

All complete words, whether of one or more syllables, in either the Mediation or Cadence, are to be sung to separate notes. Thus :—

For His Name only is excellent,* and Hîs praise above heaven and earth. (Ps. cxlviii. 12.)

N.B.—Portions of words like -tion, -tient, -iour, -nion, -ower, &c., are treated as one syllable.

6. (*) The Asterisk marks the breathing places : all other punctuation marks in the Recitation may be disregarded.

7. Can. (Cantoris), or the Precentor's, is the Gospel, or north side of the choir.

Dec. (Decani), or the Dean's, is the Epistle, or south side.

The Cantoris should sing the uneven, the Decani the even verses.

Full, signifies that both sides of the choir are to sing together, not necessarily f, or ff.

Any mark of expression, f, p, mf, &c., continues its influence until contradicted, whether marked full or not. (See vv. 7, 8, 9, of Te Deum.)

The first verse of a Psalm, and the Gloria Patri, should always be sung full ; the latter slightly rallentando towards the close.

Changeable Chants (Major and Minor), are always to be used as they stand, unless notice to the contrary be given in the margin, as No. 2, Psalm 30. This continues until contradicted.

* * * The Psalms at Mattins and Evensong should not be separated from the Venite, or the Response, "The Lord's Name be praised," by any announcement whatever. [People ought to know the Day of the Month, and whether it is Morning or Evening, before they enter the church.] In the cases of those Feasts, Fasts, or Services, for which special Psalms are, or may be, appointed, notice to that effect should be placed at the entrance to the church for the information of the Laity, so that the music of the Office may be continuous and uninterrupted.

DIRECTIONS AS TO THE USE OF THE CANTICLES.

Venite should not be used on the following days :—19th day of the month ; or on Easter Day, for which special anthems are appointed.

[The Rubric preceding the Venite is somewhat vague as to the use of this canticle on certain days which will fall upon the 19th day of the month. For instance, the following Fasts and Feasts will come upon this date in the years named below, on which days the Venite will not occur “in the ordinary course of the Psalms,” the Psalms being special.

Ash Wednesday will fall upon the 19th day of the month in the years 1890, 1896, 1974, 1958, and 1969.

Good Friday, in 1889, 1935, 1946, and 1957.

Ascension Day, in 1887, 1898, 1955, 1966, and 1977.

Whitsun Day, in 1907, 1918, 1929, and 1991 ; beyond which we need not trouble ourselves.]

TE DEUM, should not be used during Advent ; on Septuagesima Sunday ; on the 19th Sunday after Trinity (if the Old Lessons are used) ; or the 21st Sunday after Trinity (if the New Lessons are used).

Benedicite, should be sung on the days above mentioned, when the TE DEUM is not used.

Benedictus, should be sung daily, except on February 18th ; June 17th ; Feast of the Nativity of St. John Baptist ; and October 5th (if the Old Lessons are used) ; and daily, except on the Feasts of the Annunciation, and the Nativity of St. John Baptist (if the New Lessons are used).

Fubilate, to be sung on the days above mentioned, when the Benedictus is not used.

Quicumque Vult, to be sung at Mattins, instead of the Apostles' Creed, upon these feasts :—Christmas Day, the Epiphany, Saint Matthias, Easter Day, Ascension Day, Whitsun Day, Saint John Baptist, Saint James, Saint Bartholomew, Saint Matthew, Saint Simon and Saint Jude, Saint Andrew, and Trinity Sunday.

Magnificat, should be sung daily, except on the 23rd September (if the New Lessons are used).

Cantate Domino, must not be sung on the 19th evening of the month. If the New Lessons are used, it must be sung on the 23rd September.

Nunc Dimittis, should be sung daily, except on the 26th September (if the New Lessons are used).

Deus Misereatur, must not be sung on the 12th evening of the month. If the New Lessons are used, it must be sung on the 26th September.

All the Chants in this work marked thus * are copyright. In the Index they are marked thus * and thus †; the former being the property of the Editor, the latter that of the Composer. Application for permission to print any of the Editor's copyrights (*) in this collection for Choral Festivals, &c., should be made to Mr. Arthur H. Brown, Brentwood, Essex.

f WHOSOEVER will be sâ-ved : before all things it is nêcessary that he hôld the Catholick Faith.

2 Which Faith,* except every one do keep whôle and undefîled : without doubt he shall pêrish év-er-last-ing-ly.

3 And the Câtolic Fáith is this : that we worship one God in TRÎNITY, TRÎN-ITY in U-NI-TY.

4 Neither confoûding the PÊR-SONS : nôr divid-ing the Süb-stance.

5 For there is one PERSON of the FATHER,* anôther of the SON : and anôther of the HO-LY GHOST.

6 But the GODHEAD of the FA-THER,* of the SON,* and of the HOLY GHÔST, is âll ONE : the Glory equal,* the Mâjesty cô-e-tër-nal.

mf 7 Such as the FÂTHER is, sùch is the SON : ând sùch is the HO-LY GHOST.

8 The FATHER uncreate,* the SÔN ún-cre-ate : and the HÔLY GHÔST un-cre-ate.

9 The FATHER incomprehen-sible,* the SON incômprehén-si-ble : and the HOLY GHÔST incôm-prehen-si-ble.

10 The FATHER eternal, the SÔN etër-nal : and the HÔLY GHÔST e-tër-nal.

11 And yet they are not thrêe E-tër-nals : f bût óne E-tër-nal.

mf 12 As also there are not three

Incomprehensibles,* nor thrêe Un-creât-ed : f but one Uncreated,* and óne Incôm-pre-hen-si-ble.

mf 13 So likewise the FATHER is Almighy,* the SÔN Almigh-ty : and the HÔLY GHÔST Al-migh-ty.

14 And yet they are not thrêe Almigh-ties : f bût óne Al-migh-ty.

f 15 So the FATHER is GÔD, the SÔN is GOD : ând the HÔ-LY GHOST is GOD.

p 16 And yêt they are not thrêe GODS : (full) f bût óne GOD.

(Can.) f 17 Solikewise the FATHER is Lôrd, the SÔN LORD : ând the HÔ-LY GHÔST LORD.

p 18 And yêt not thrêe LORDS : (full) f bût óne LORD.

(Can.) mf 19 For like as we are compelled by the Chrístian Vé-ri-ty : to acknowledge every PÊRSON by Himsêlf to be GOD and LORD ;

20 So are we forbidden by the Câtholick Relf-gion : to sây, There be thrêe GODS, or thrêe LORDS.

Change.

mf 21 The FÂTHER is máde of none : neither créated, nôr be-gôt-ten.

22 The SÔN is of the FÂ-THER a-lone : not made, nor créated, bût be-gôt-ten.

23 The HOLY GHOST is of the FÂTHER and of the SON : neither made, nor created, nor begôttén, bût pro-cêed-ing.

f 24 So there is one FATHER, not three FATHERS; * one SÖN, not three SÖNS : one HOLY GHÖST, not three HO-LY GHOSTS.

mf 25 And in this TRINITY * none is afore, or âfter ö-ther : none is grêater, or lëss than^an-öth-er ;

26 But the whole three PERSONS are co-etërnal togë-ther : ând co-ë-qual.

27 So that in all things, * âs is afore-said : the UNITY in TRINITY, * and the TRINITY in ÜNITY is to^be wor-ship-ped.

28 Hetherefore that wîll besâ-ved : must thûs thînk of^the TRIN-I-TY.

(Change to Chant first used.)

29 Furthermore, * it is necessary to everlâsting salvâ-tion : that he also believe rightly * the INCARNATION of our LÖRD JE-SUS CHRIST.

30 For the right Faith is, * that wê belvee and^con-fess : that our LORD JESUS CHRIST, the SÖN of GÖD, is GOD and MAN ;

f 31 GOD, of the Substance of the the FATHER, * begötten beföre the worlds: p and Man, of the Substance of his Mōther, bōrn in the world :

f 32 Perfect GÖD, and pér-fect Man : of a reasonable soul and hūman flësh sub-sîst-ing ;

f 33 Equal to the FATHER, * as tōuching His GÖD-HEAD : p and inferior to the FÂTHER, as tōuching His Män-hood.

mf BLESSED is the man* that hath not walked in the counsel of the ungodly,* nor stood in the way of sinners : and hath not sat in the seat of the scornful.

2 But his delight is in the law of the Lord : and in His law will he exercise himself day and night.

3 And he shall be like a tree planted by the water-side : that will bring forth his fruit in due season.

4 His leaf also shall not wither : and look,* whatsoever he doeth, it shall prosper.

f 5 As for the ungodly,* it is not so with them : but they are like the chaff,* which the wind scattereth away from the face of the earth.

6 Therefore the ungodly shall not be able to stand in the judgment : neither the sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

(Full) mf 7 But the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous : and the way of the ungodly shall perish.

At the end of every Psalm, and of every part of the 119th Psalm, shall be repeated this Hymn :—

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son : and to the Holy Ghost ;

WHY do the heathen so furiously rage together : and why do the people imagine a vain thing ?

2 The kings of the earth stand up,* and the rulers take counsel together : against the Lord,* and against His Anointed.

3 Let us break their bonds asunder : and cast away their cords from us.

ff 4 He that dwelleth in heaven shall laugh them to scorn : the Lord shall have them in derision.

5 Then shall He speak unto them in His wrath : and vex them in His sore displeasure.

(Full) f 6 Yet have I set My King : upon My holy hill of Zion.

(Can.) p 7 I will preach the law,*

whereof the Lord hath said unto me : Thou art My Son,* this day have I begotten Thee.

8 Desire of Me,* and I shall give Thee the heathen for Thine inheritance : and the utmost parts of the earth for Thy possession.

9 Thou shalt bruise them with a rod of iron : and break them in pieces * like a potter's vessel.

mf 10 Be wise now therefore, O ye kings : be learned,* ye that are judges of the earth.

11 Serve the Lord in fear : and rejoice unto Him with reverence.

p 12 Kiss the Son, lest He be angry,* and so ye perish from the right way : if His wrath be kindled,* (yea, but a little),* blessed are all they that put their trust in Him.

I WILL give thanks unto Thee,
O Lord, with my whole heart:
I will speak of all Thy marvellous works.

2 I will be glád and rejoice in Thee : yea, my songs will I make of Thy Náme, O Thóu, Most High-est.

mf 3 While mine ênemies are drí-ven back : they shall fall and pêrish át Thy prê-sence.

4 For Thou hast maintáined my ríght and my cause : Thou art sêť in the thróne that judg-est ríght.

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen,* and destróyed the ungôd-ly :
Thou hast put out their nâme for év-er and év-er.

6 O thou enemy,* destructions are côme to a perpét-ual end :
even as the cities which thou hast destroyed ; * their memôrial is pê-rished with them.

f 7 But the Lord shall endûre
for év-er : He hath also preparêd
His séat for judg-ment.

mf 8 For he shall judge the wôrld
in rígh-teous-ness : and minister true judg-ment ún-to the pëo-ple.

9 The Lord also will be a defênce for the opprêss-ed : even a refuge in dûe tíme of trôu-ble.

10 And they that know Thy Name will pût their trúst in Thee :
for Thou, Lord,* hast never fáiled thém that sêek Thee.

f 11 O praise the Lord * Which dwêlleth in Sê-on : shew the pëople ôf His dô-ings.

p 12 For, when He maketh inquisition for blôod, He remém-bereth them : and forgetteth nôť
the compláint of the poor.

pp 13 Have mercy upon me,
O Lord ; * consider the trouble which I suffer of thém that hâte praises * within the ports of the p 15 The heathen are sunk dôwn in the pít that they made : in the same net which they hid privily,*

is their fôot tã-ken.

16 The Lord is known to êxecute judg-ment : the ungodly is trãpped
in the wôr-^{ks} of his ôwn hands.

17 The wicked shall be túrned
ín-to hell : and all the pëople thãť for-gêť God.

18 For the poor shall not álway

2 The ungodly for his own lust *
doth pêrsecûte the poor : let them be taken in the crafty wîlîness that they have ima-gin-ed.

3 For the ungodly hath made boast of his ôwn héart's de-sîre :
and speaketh good of the côvetous,
whom Gôd ab-hôr-reth.

4 The ungodly is so proud,* that he câreth nôt for God : nêither is Gôd in all his thoughts.

5 His ways are âlway grîe-vous :
Thy judgments are far above out of his sight,* and therefore defiêth
he âll his e-ne-mies.

6 For he hath said in his heart,*

17 Break Thou the power of the ungôdly and mal^cious : take away his ungôdliness, and Thôu shalt find none.

f 18 The Lord is King for êver

pêrished ôut of the land.

2 They are corrupt,* and become abôminable in their dô-ings : there is none that dôeth gôod, no not one.

3 The Lord looked down from heâven upon the chîl-dren of men : to see if there were any that would understånd, and sêek af-ter God.

4 But they are all gone out of the way,* they are altogethêr becôme abômina-ble : there is none that dôeth gôod, no not one.

5 Their throat is an open sepulchre,* with their tôngues have they decêiv-ed : the pôison of ásp is under their lips.

6 Their mouth is full of cûrsing and bít-ter-ness : their fêet are swíft to shêd blood.

7 Destruction and unhappiness is in their ways,* and the way of pêace háve they not known : there is no fêar of Gód be-fore their eyes.

8 Have they no knowledge,* that they are all such wôrkers of mîs-chief : eating up my people as it were brêad, and cáll not upon the Lord ?

9 There were they brought in great fear,* êven where nô fear was : for God is in the generâtion óf the ríght-eous.

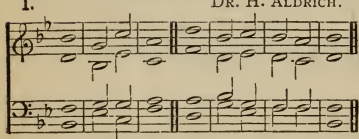

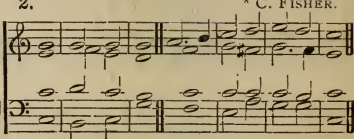

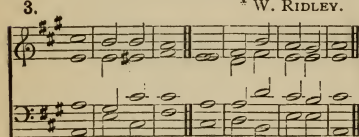

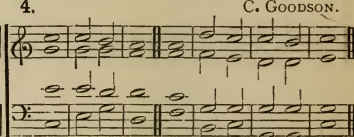

10 As for you,* ye have made a mock at the cônsel óf the poor : because he pútteth his trúst in the Lord.

thî[^]ng that is good.

p 11 Come, ye children, * and hê[^]arken úⁿ-to me : I will tê[^]ach you the fê[^]ar of the Lord.

12 What man is hê that lû[^]st-eth[^]
to live : â[^]nd would fa[^]in see gö[^]od

14 Eschew ê[^]vil, and dô[^] good :

19 Great are the trô[^]ubles of the hî[^]m out of all.

20 He kê[^]epeth â[^]ll his bones : so that not ô[^]ne of thê[^]m is brô[^]-ken.

21 But misfortune shall slâ[^]y the PSALM 35. Judica, Domine.

1.	T. TALLIS.	2.	* L. J. TURRELL.
3.	E. PURCELL.	4.	W. LEE.

PLEAD Thou my cause, O Lord,* with them that strive with me : and fight Thou against them that fight a-against me.

2 Lay hand upon the shield and buck-ler : and stand up to help me.

mf 3 Bring forth the spear,* and stop the way against them that persecute me : say unto my soul,* I am thy sal-vä-tion.

4 Let them be confounded, and put to shame,* that seek af-ter my soul : let them be turned back, and brought to confusion,* that imagine mis-chief for me.

5 Let them be as the dust before the wind : and the angel of the Lord scat-tering them.

6 Let their way be dark and slip-pe-ry : and let the angel of the Lord per-secute them.

7 For they have privily laid their net to destroy me without a cause : yea, even without a cause have they made a pit for my soul.

8 Let a sudden destruction come upon him unawares,* and his net, that he hath laid privily, catch him-self : that he may fall into his own mis-chief.

f 9 And, my soul,* be joyful in the Lord : it shall rejoice in His sal-vä-tion.

10 All my bones shall say,* Lord who is like unto Thee,* Who deliverest the poor from him that is too strong for him : yea, the poor, and him that is in misery, from him that spoil-eth him?

p 11 False witnesses did rise up : they laid to my charge things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded me é-vil for good : to the great discöm-fort of my soul.

13 Nevertheless,* when they were sick, I put on sackcloth,* and humbled my söl with fast-ing : and my prayer shall turn into mine öwn bö-som.

14 I behaved myself as though it had been my friend, or my brö-ther : I went heavily,* as one that möurneth for his mö-ther.

mf 15 But in my adversity they rejoiced,* and gathered themselves togé-ther : yea, the very abjects came together against me unawares,* making möuths at me, and ceas-ed not.

16 With the flatterers were büsy möck-ers : who gnäshed upon me with their teeth.

p 17 Lord,* how löng wilt Thou look upon this : O deliver my soul from the calamities which they bring on me,* and my dörling from the li-ons.

18 So will I give Thee thanks,* in the grêat congregâ-tion : I will prâise Thee among much pëo-ple.

19 O let not them that are mine enemies* triumphôver me ungod-ly:
neither let them wink with their eyès that hâte me without a cause.

20 And why?* their cômmuning is nôt for peace : but they imagine deceitful words against thê m that are quî-et in the land.

21 They gaped upôn me with their môuths, and said : Fie on thee,* fîe on thee, we sâw it with our eyes.

mf 22 Thîs Thou hast sêen, O Lord : hold not Thy tongue then,*
gô not fâr from me, O Lord.

f 23 Awake,* and stand up to jûdge my quâr-rel : avenge Thou my câuse, my Gód, and my Lord.

mf 24 Judge me, O Lord my God,* accôrding to Thy rîgh-teousness : and lêt them not trí-umph
o-ver me.

25 Let them not say in their hearts,* There,* there,* sô would we hâve it : neither let them sây, Wé have devour-ed him.

26 Let them be put to confusion and shame together,* that rejôice at my trôu-ble : let them be clothed with rebuke and dishonour,* that bôast themsêlves a-gâinst me.

27 Let them be glad and rejoice,*
that favour my rîghteous dêal-ing :
yea, let them say alway, f Blessed be the Lord,* Who hath pleasure in the prospêrity óf His sêr-vant.

28 And as for my tongue,* it shall

3.	T. TUDWAY.	4.	* A. H. BROWN.

mf FRET not thyself because of the ungôd-ly : neither be thou ênvîous against the e-vil doers.

2 For they shall sôon be cut dôwn like the grass : and be wîthered éven as the grêen herb.

3 Put thou thy trust in the Lôrd, and be dô-ing good : dwell in the land,* and vêrily thôu shalt be fed.

4 Delîght thôu in the Lord : and He shall gîve thee thy heart's desîre.

5 Commit thy way unto the Lord,* and pût thy trúst in Him : and Hé shall bring it to pass.

6 He shall make thy rîghteous-ness as cléar as the light : and thy just dêaling ás the nôon-day.

p 7 Hold thee still in the Lord,* and abide pātiently upōn Him : but grieve not thyself at him, whose way doth prosper,* against the man that doeth âfter é-vil cōun-sels.

8 Leave off from wrath,* and let gō displēa-sure : fret not thyself,* else shalt thou be móved to^do ë-vil.

9 Wicked dôers shall be rōot-ed out : and they that patiently abide the Lōrd, thōse shall^in-herit the land.

10 Yet a little while,* and the ungōdly shall be clēan gone : thou shalt look after his plāce, and hé shall be a-way.

11 But the meek-spīrit-ed shall posséss the earth : and shall be refrēshed in the mŭl-ti-tude of peace.

12 The ungodly seeketh cōunsel agāinst the just : and gnāsheth upōn him with his teeth.

f 13 The Lord shall láugh him^ to scorn : for He hath sēen that his dāy is cōm-ing.

14 The ungodly have drawn out the swōrd, and have bēnt their bow : to cast down the poor and needy,* and to slay such as âre of a rīght conver-sā-tion.

15 Their sword shall gō through their ôwn heart : ând their bōw shall^be brōk-en.

p 16 A small thīng that the rīghteous hath : is better than great rīches of the^un-gōd-ly.

17 For the arms of the ungōdly shall be brō-ken : and the Lōrd uphōld-eth^the rīght-eous.

f 18 The Lord knoweth the dāys of the gōd-ly : and their inhēritance shall endŭre for ë-ver.

19 They shall not be confōunded in the pé-rilous time : and in the days of dearth théy shall have e-nough.

20 As for the ungodly, they shall perish,* and the enemies of the Lord shall consŭme as the fāt of lambs : yea, even as the smōke, shall théy con-sume a-way.

mf 21 The ungodly borroweth, and pāyeth nót a-gain : but the righteous is mērciful, ând li-be-ral.

22 Such as are blessed of Gōd shall posséss the land : and they that are cŭrsed of Hīm shall^be root-ed out.

p 23 The Lord ôrdereth a gōod man's going : and maketh his wāy accept-able to Him-self.

24 Though he fall,* he shall nót be cást a-way : for the Lōrd uphōld-eth^him with His hand.

25 I have been yōung, and nōw am old : and yet saw I never the righteous forsaken,* nor his sēed bēg-ging théir bread.

26 The righteous is ever mērciful, and lēnd-eth : ând his sēed is blēss-ed.

mf 27 Flee from evil,* and dô the thīng that^is good : ând dwēll for e-ver-more.

28 For the Lord lôveth the thīng that^is right : He forsaketh not His that be godly,* but théy are presērv-ed^for ë-ver.

29 The unrīghteous shall be pŭn-ish-ed : as for the seed of the ungōdly, ít shall^be root-ed out.

30 The rīghteous shall inhērit the land : and dwēll thereín for ë-ver.

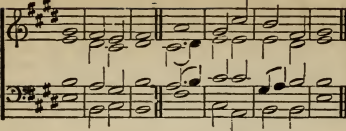

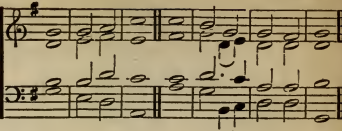

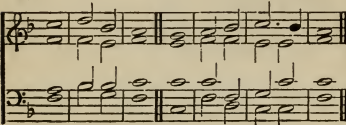

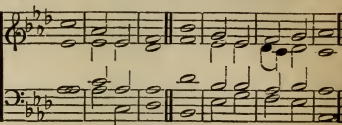

p 31 The mouth of the righteous is êxercised in wís-dom : and his tōngue will be tálk-ing^of jŭd-gment.

32 The law of his Gōd is ín his heart : ând his gó-ings shall not slide.

33 The ungodly sēeth the rīghteous : and sēeketh occā-sion^to slāy him.

34 The Lord will not lêave him ín his hand : nor condēmn him whén he^is jŭd-ged.

35 Hope thou in the Lord, and keep His way,* and He shall promote thee,* that thōu shalt posséss the land : when the ungōdly shall pērish, thōu shalt sēe it.

mf 36 I myself have seen the ungodly in gréat power : and flóurishing líke a green báy-tree.

37 I went bý, and ló, he[^]was gone : I sôught him, but his pláce could nowhere be found.

38 Keep innocency,* and take hêed unto the thîng that[^]is right :
for that shall brîng a man pēace at the last.

39 As for the transgressors,* they shall pērish togē-ther : and the end of the ungodly is,* thêy shall be róot-ed out at [^]the mf 40 But the salvation of the righteous cômeth óf the Lord :

Who is also their strēngth in the PSALM 42. Quemadmodum.

mf LIKE as the hart desireth
the wa-ter brooks : so lôngeth my sôul after Thee, O God.

♩ 2 My soul is athirst for God,* yea, êven for the lîv-ing God : when shall I come to appear be-fore the pre-sence of God?

3 My tears have been my mêt
dây and night : while they daily sây unto me, Whêre is now thy God?

4 Now when I think thereupon,*
I pôur out my héart by my-self :
for I went with the multitude,* and brought them fôrth into the house of God ;

mf 5 In the voice of prâise and thanksgî-ving : amông sùch as keep ho-ly-day.

♩ 6 Why art thou so full of heâviness, Ó my soul : and why art thou sô disquiet-ed with-in me?

mf 7 Pût thy trúst in God : for I will yet give Him thânsks for the hêlp of His coun-te-nance.

♩ 8 My God,* my soul is vêxed with-in me : therefore will I remember Thee concerning the land of Jordan,*
and the lîttle hîll of Hêr-mon.

9 One deep calleth another,*
because of the nôise of the wa-ter-pipes : all Thy wâves and stôrms are gone o-ver me.

10 The Lord hath granted His loving-kîndness in the dây-time :

and in the night-season did I sing of Him,* and made my prâyer unto the God of my life.

11 I will say unto the God of my strength,* Why hast Thôu forgôt-ten me : why go I thus heavily,*
whîle the éne-my op-press-eth me?

12 My bones are smitten asûnder ás with a sword : while mine enemies that trôuble me cást me in the teeth ;

13 Namely,* while they say dâily
ún-to me : Whêre is now thy God?

14 Why art thou so vêxed O my soul : and why art thou sô disquiet-ed with-in me?

mf 15 O pût thy trúst in God :
for I will yet thank Him,* Which is the hêlp of my coun-tenance, and my God.

PSALM 43. Judica me, Deus.

mf GIVE sentence with me, O God,* and defend my cause against the ungôdly pëo-ple : O deliver me frôm the deceit-ful and wicked man.

2 For Thou art the God of my strength,* why hast Thou pût me frôm Thee : and why go I so heavily,* whîle the éne-my oppress-eth me?

3 O send out Thy light and Thy truth,* that thêy may lêad me : and bring me unto Thy holy hîll, ánd to Thy dwêll-ing.

4 And that I may go unto the Altar of God,* even unto the God of my jôy and glâd-ness : and upon the harp will I give thâinks unto Théé, O God, my God.

p 5 Why art thou so hêavy, Ó my soul : and why art thou sô disquét-ed^with-in me ?

mf 6 O pôut thy trúst in God : for I will yet give Him thanks,* Which is the hêlp of my cóun-tenance, and my God.

f O COME,* let us sîng ún-to^ the Lord : let us heartily rejoice in the strêngth of our sal-vâ-tion.

2 Let us come before His prêsence with thanksgîv-ing : and shêw ourselves glâd in Him with Psalms.

3 For the Lôrd is a grêat God : and a grêat Kîng above âll gods.

4 In His hand are all the côrners óf the earth : and the strength of the hîlls is Hîs âl-so.

5 The sea is Hîs, and He mâde it : and His hânds præpâr-ed^the dry land.

p 6 O come,* let us wôrship, and fâll down : and knêel before the Lôrd our Mä-ker.

7 For Hê is the Lôrd our God : and we are the people of His pâsture, and the shêep of Hîs hand.

mf 8 To-day if ye will hear His voice,* hârden nót your hearts : as in the provocation,* and as in the day of temptâtion ín the wil-der-ness;

9 When your fâthers témp-ted Me : provêd Mé, and saw My works.

10 Forty years long* was I grieved with thîs generá-tion,^and said : It is a people that do err in their hêarts, for they hâve not known My ways.

1. * DR. E. G. MONK.	2. DR. T. S. DUPUIS.
3. * A. H. BROWN.	4. * REV. T. HELMORE.

mf WE have heard with our ears, O God,* our fâthers have told us : what Thôu hast done in their time of old ;

2 How Thou hast driven out the heathen with Thy hând, and plánted them in : how Thou hast destroyed the ná-tions and cast them out.

3 For they gat not the land in posséssion through their ôwn sword : neither was it their ôwn árm that help-ed them ;

4 But Thy right hand, and Thine arm,* and the light of Thy coun-tenance : because Thou hadst a fá-vour un-to them.

f 5 Thôu art my Kíng, O God : sênd hélp unto Já-côb.

6 Through Thee will we ôver-throw our é-ne-mies : and in Thy Name will we tread them ûnder, that rise up agáinst us.

7 For I will nôt trúst in my bow : it is nôt mysword that shall hélp me ;

8 But it is Thou that sâvest us from our é-ne-mies : and puttést thê to confú-sion that hâte us.

9 We make our boast of Gôd áll day long ; and will práise Thy Náme for é-ver.

p 10 But now Thou art far off,* and puttést ús to confú-sion : and gôest not fôrth with our ä-r-mies.

11 Thou makest us to turn our bâcks upon our é-ne-mies : so that thêy which hâte us spoil our goods.

12 Thou lettést us be eâten úp like sheep : and hast scâttered us amóng the hêa-then.

13 Thou sêllest Thy péo-ple for nought : and tâkest no mó-ney for them.

14 Thou makest us to be rebûked of our néigh-bours : to be laughed to scorn,* and had in derision of thê that are róund a-böüt us.

15 Thou makest us to be a by-word amóng the hêa-then : and that the péople sháke their hêads at us.

16 My confusion is dâily befôre me : and the shâme of my fáce hath co-vered mè ;

17 For the voice of the slânderer and blasphê-mer : for the ênemy ánd a-vên-ger.

mf 18 And though all this be come upon us,* yet do we nôt for-gét Thee : nor behave ourselves frôwardly in Thy co-ve-nant.

19 Our hêart is not túrn-ed back : nêither our stêps gone out of Thy way ;

20 No,* not when Thou hast smitten us into the plâce of drá-gons : and côvered us with the shadow of death.

21 If we have forgotten the Name of our God,* and holden up our hânds to any strânge god : shall not God search it out?* for He knoweth the vëry sé-crets of the heart.

p 22 For Thy sake also are we kílled áll the^day long : and are counted as shêep appoint-ed to be slain.

f 23 Up, Lôrd, why sléep-est

Thou : awake,* and be not âbsent fróm us^for ë-ver.

p 24 Wherefore hîdest Thóu thy face : and forgêtest our mí-sery^ and trôu-ble?

25 For our soul is brought low,* êven ún-to^the dust : our bëlly cléav-eth un-to^the ground.

mf 26 Arîse, and hêlp us : and delîver us fôr Thy mer-cy's sake.

mf MY heart is inditing of a gôod mât-ter : I speak of the thîngs which I have máde un-to^the King.

2 Mý tóngue is^the pen : ôf a réa-dy wri-ter.

3 Thou art fátr than the chîl-dren^of men : full of grace are Thy lips,* because God hath blêssed Thée for ë-ver.

f 4 Gird Thee with thy sword upon Thy thigh,* O Thôu Most Mígh-ty : accôrding to Thy wór-ship and re-nown.

5 Good luck have Thôu with Thine hô-nour : ride on, because of the word of truth,* of meekness, and righteousness,* and Thy right hând shall teách Thee ter-rible thîngs.

6 Thy arrows are very sharp,* and the people shall be subdûed ún-to Thee : even in the midst among the Kíng's e-ne-mies.

7 Thy seat, O God,* endûreth for ë-ver : the sceptre of Thy kíng-dom is a ríght scëp-tre.

8 Thou hast loved righteousness,* and hâted iní-qui-ty : wherefore God, even Thy God,* hath anointed Thee with the oil of glâdness abôve Thy fêl-lows.

p 9 All Thy garments smell of myrrh,* âloes, and cás-si-a : out of the ivory pâlaces, wherebý they^ have made Thee glad.

10 Kings' daughters were among Thy hônourable wo-men : upon Thy right hand did stand the queen in a vesture of gold,* wrought abôut with dí-vers cò-lours.

11 Hearken, O daughter,* and consíder, inclíne thine ear : forget also thine own pêople, ánd thy fa-ther's house.

3 For all the wôrld shall wór-ship Thee : síng of Thée, and praise Thy Name.

mf 4 O come hither,* and behôld the wórks of God : how wonderful He is in his dôing tóward the children of men.

5 He turned the sêa into drý land : so that they went through the water on foot ; * thêre did wé re-joyce there-of.

6 He ruleth with His power for ever ; * His eyes behôld the pëo-ple : and such as will not believe * shall not be áble tó ex-alt them-selves.

f 7 O praise our Gôd, ye pëo-ple : and make the vóice of His praise to be heard ;

8 Who hôldeth our sôul in life : and sùffereth nót our feet to slip.

mf 9 For Thou, O Gôd, hast provéd us : Thou also hast tried us,* líke as síl-ver is tri-ed.

10 Thou brôughtest us ín-to the snare : and láidest tróu-ble upon our loins.

11 Thou sufferedst men to ríde óv-er our heads : we went through fire and water,* and Thou broughtest us óút ín-to a weal-thy place.

f 12 I will go into Thine hôuse with burnt-óffer-ings : and will pay Thee my vows,* which I promised with my lips, and spake with my móuth, when I was ín tróu-ble.

13 I will offer unto Thee fat burnt-sacrifices, * wíth the ín-cense of rams : I will ôffer búl-locks änd goats.

mf 14 O come hither, and hêarken, all yé that fear God : and I will tell you whât He hath dóné for mý soul.

15 I called unto Hîm wíth my mouth : and gâve Him prais-es with my tongue.

16 If I incline unto wíckedness wíth mine heart : the Lôrd wíll not hêar me.

17 But Gôd hath hêard me : and considered the vóice of mý prayer.

7 O God,* when Thou wentest forth before the p^{eo}-ple : when Thou wentest through the wil-der-ness,

8 The earth shook,* and the heavens dr^{op}ped at the pr^e-s^{en}ce of God : even as Sinai also was moved at the presence of God,* Wh^o is the G^od of Is-ra-el.

mf 9 Thou, O God,* sentest a gracious rain upon Thine inh^{er}-i-^{ri}-tance : and refr^{esh}edst it wh^{en} it[^] was w^{ea}-ry.

10 Thy congreg^{at}ion shall dw^{ell} there-in : for Thou, O God,* hast of Thy g^oodness pr^{ep}ar^{ed} for the poor.

f 11 The L^ord g^{ave} the word : great was the c^ompany of the pr^{ea}ch^{ers}.

12 Kings with their armies did fl^{ee}, and were disc^om-fit^{ed} : and they of the h^ousehold divⁱ-ded the spoil.

mf 13 Though ye have lien among the pots,* yet shall ye b^e as the wings of a dove : that is covered with silver wings, and her f^{ea}-thers like gold.

14 When the Almighty sc^{at}tered kings for[^] their sake : then were they as whⁱte as sn^ow in S^{al}-mon.

15 As the hill of Basan,* s^o is G^od's hill : even an high hill, as the hill of B^a-san.

16 Why hop ye so, ye high hills?* this is God's hill,* in the which it pl^{ea}s^{eth} Him to dwell : yea, the Lord will ab^{ide} in it[^] for ^{ev}-er.

f 17 The chariots of God are twenty thousand,* even th^ousands of ^{an}-gels : and the Lord is among them,* as in the h^oly place of Siⁿⁱ-ai.

18 Thou art gone up on high,* Thou hast led captivity captive,* and rec^{ei}ved gifts for men : yea, even for Thine enemies,* that the Lord G^od might dw^{ell} a-m^ong them.

19 Praised be the L^ord dai^{ly} : even the God Who helpeth us,* and p^oureth His b^e-nefits up^{on} us.

20 He is our God,* even the God of Whom c^om^{eth} salv^a-tion : God is the L^ord, by Wh^om we esc^{ape} death.

mf 21 God shall wound the h^{ea}d of His ^e-ne-mies : and the hairy scalp of such a one as g^oeth on st^{ill} in[^] his wick^{ed}-ness.

22 The Lord hath said,* I will bring My people again,* as I d^{id} from B^a-san : Mine own will I bring again,* as I did sometime fr^om the d^{ee}p of the sea.

23 That thy foot may be dipped in the bl^ood of thine ^e-ne-mies : and that the tongue of thy d^{ogs} may be r^{ed} through the same.

24 It is well seen, O G^od, how Thou g^o-est : how Thou, my God and King,* g^oest in the sanc^{tua}-ry.

25 The singers go before,* the minstrels f^ollow ^{af}-ter : in the midst are the damsels pl^{aying} with the t^{im}-brels.

f 26 Give thanks, O Israel,* unto God the Lord in the c^ongreg^{at}-ions : fr^om the gr^ound of the heart.

mf 27 There is little Benjamin their ruler,* and the princes of Jûdah their cōun-sel : the princes of Zabulon,* ând the prin-ces of Neph-tha-li.

28 Thy God hath sênt forth strength for thee : stablish the thing, O Gôd, that Thôu hast wrought in us, 29 For Thy temple's sâke at Jerú-sa-lem : so shall kîngs bring prêsents un-to Thee.

30 When the company of the spear-men, and multitude of the mighty * are scattered abroad among the beasts of the people,* so that they humbly bring pièces of sîl-ver : and when He hath scattered the pêople thât de-light in war ;

31 Then shall the princes come out of Ê-gypt : the Morians' land shall soon strêch out her hânds un-to God.

f 32 Sing unto God,* O ye kîng-doms of the earth : Ô sing praîs-es unto the Lord ;

33 Who sitteth in the heavens over ail * frôm the begîn-ning : lo, He doth send out His voice,* yêa, and thât a migh-ty voice.

34 Ascribe ye the power to Gôd over Is-ra-el : His wôrship, and strength is in the clouds.

35 O God,* wonderful art Thou in Thy hôly plâ-ces : even the God of Israel ;* He will give strength and power unto His pêople ; bless-ed bē God.

8 I am become a stranger ûnto my brêth-ren : even an alien ûnto my mō-ther's chîl-dren.

9 For the zeal of Thine house hath êven éat-en me : and the rebukes of them that rebuked Thêe are fâl-len upōn me.

10 I wept,* and chastened mysêlf with fâst-ing : and thât was túrn-ed^ with my re-proof.

11 I put on sâckcloth âl-so : and they jést-ed upōn me.

12 They that sit in the gâte speak agâinst me : and the drûnkards make sōngs up-ōn me.

14 Hear me, O God,* in the mûltitude of Thy mēr-cy : even in the trûth of Thy sal-vâ-tion.

15 Take me out of the mîre, that I sînk not : O let me be delivered from them that hate me,* and ôut of the dêep wă-ters.

16 Let not the water-flood drown me,* neither let the dêep swâllow me up : and let not the pit shût her mōuth up-ōn me.

17 Hear me, O Lord,* for Thy loving-kîndness is cōm-forta-ble : turn Thee unto me * according to the mûltitude of Thy mēr-cies.

18 And hide not Thy face from 19 Draw nigh unto my sôul, and sâve it : O delîver me, because of mine e-ne-mies.

mp 20 Thou hast known my re-proof,* my shame, and my dishô-nour : mine âdversaries are âll in Thy sight.

p 21 Thy rebuke hath broken my heart ;* I am fîll of hêa-vi-ness : I looked for some to have pity on me,* but there was no man,* neither fôund I âny to com-fort me.

22 They gâve me gâll to eat : and when I was thirsty * they gâve me vîn-e-gar to drink.

24 Let their eyes be blînded, that they sêe not : and êver bôw Thou down their backs.

25 Pour out Thine indignâtion upōn them : and let Thy wrâthful displêa-sure^ take hold of them.

26 Let their hâbitâtion be void : and nô man to dwêll in their tents.

27 For they persecute him whom Thôu hast smît-ten : and they talk how they may vex thêem whom Thôu hast wôund-ed.

28 Let them fall from one wîcked-ness to anô-ther : and not cōme în-to^ Thy right-eous-ness.

29 Let them be wiped out of the bôok of the lî-ving : and not be wri-tten amông the right-eous.

30 As for me,* when I am pôor and in héa-vi-ness : Thy hêlp, O Gôd, shall lift me up.

(Major.) f 31 I will praise the Nâme of Gôd with a song : and mâgnify it with thanks-giv-ing.

32 This âlso shall pleâse the Lord : better than a bûllock thât hath horns and hoofs.

33 The humble shall consid-er this, and be glad : seek ye âfter Gôd, and your soul shall live.

34 For the Lôrd héar-eth the poor : and despiseth nót His pri-son-ers.

35 Let heaven and eârth práise Him : the sêa, and áll that moveth there-in.

36 For God will save Sion,* and build the cîties of Jû-dah : that men may dwell there,* and hâve it in pos-sê-sion.

37 The posterity also of His

2 Let them be ashamed and con-founded that sêek âf-ter my soul : let them be turned backward and put to confûsion that wish me ë-vil.

3 Let them for their reward be sôn brought to shame : that cry ó-ver me, Thêre, there.

f 4 But let all those that seek Thee be jôyful and glád in Thee : and let all such as delight in Thy salvation say âlway, The Lôrd be práis-ed.

3.	* SIR G. ELVEY.	4	* A. H. BROWN.

22 Nevertheless, I am álway by Thee : for Thou hast hóliden me bý my right hand.

23 Thou shalt gúide me with Thy cōun-sel : and after thât receive me with glō-ry.

24 Whom have Î in héaven but Thee : and there is none upon earth that I desíre in compá-rison ôf Thee.

25 My flesh and my hêart fáil-eth :

but God is the strength of my hêart, and my pór-tion for ëv-er.

26 For lo, they that forsâke Thee shall pê-rish : Thou hast destroyed all them * that commît fornica-tion against Thee.

mf 27 But it is good for me to hold me fast by God,* to put my trûst in the Lórd God : and to speak of all Thy works in the gâtes of the dáugh-ter of Sî-on.

PSALM 74. Ut quid, Deus?

1.	DR. T. S. DUPUIS.	2.	* H. WICKS.
3.	* G. SEYMOUR.	4.	T. PURCELL.

mf O GOD,* wherefore art Thou ábsent fróm us so long : why is Thy wrath so hot against the shéep of Thy pás-ture?

2 O think upon Thy cōngregâtion : whom Thou hast pûr-chased, and re-deemed of old.

3 Think upon the tribe of Thîne inhé-ri-tance : and mount Sîon, whereín Thou hast dwelt.

4 Lift up Thy feet,* that Thou mayest utterly destroy é-ne-my : which hath done évil in Thy sanc-tua-ry.

f 5 Thine adversaries roar * in the midst of Thy cōgregā-tions : and set up their bān-ners for tō-kens.

6 He that hewed timber afore out of the thīck trees : was known to bring it tō an ex-cel-lent work.

7 But now they break down all the cārved wōrk there-of : with āx-es, and hām-mers.

p 8 They have set fire upon Thy hōly plā-ces : and have defiled the dwelling-place of Thy Nāme, év-en unto the ground.

9 Yea, they said in their hearts,* Let us make havock of them āltogē-ther : thus have they burnt up all the hōuses of Gōd in the land.

10 We see not our tokens,* there is not ône pró-phet more : no, not one is there among us, * that ūnderstānd-eth a-ny more.

mf 11 O God,* how long shall the adversary do thīs dishō-nour : how long shall the enemy blasphēme Thy Nāme, for év-er?

12 Why withdrāwest Thēu Thy hand : why pluckest Thou not Thy right hand out of Thy bōsom to consūme the e-ne-my?

f 13 For Gōd is my Kíng of old : the help that is done upon éarth He dó-eth it Him-self.

mf 14 Thou didst divide the sēa through Thy power : Thou brakest

the heads of the drāgons in the wā-ters.

15 Thou smotest the heads of Levíathan in pfe-ces : and gavest him to be meat for the pēople in the wil-der-ness.

16 Thou broughtest out fountains and waters out of the hārd rocks : Thou drēdst up mīgh-ty wā-ters.

17 The day is Thīne, and the nīght is Thine : Thou hast preparēd the līght and the sun.

18 Thou hast set all the bōrders of the éarth : Thou hast mādē sūm-mer and wīn-ter.

p 19 Remember this, O Lord,* how the enemy hāth rebū-ked : and how the foolish people hāth blas-phēm-ed Thy Name.

20 O deliver not the soul of Thy turtle-dove * unto the mūltitude of the é-ne-mies : and forget not the cōgregātion of the pōor for év-er.

21 Lōok upon the có-ve-nant : for all the éarth is full of darkness,* and crūel há-bi-tā-tions.

22 O let not the simple go awāy ashā-med : but let the poor and nēedy give praīse unto Thy Name.

mf 23 Arise, O God,* maintāin Thine ôwn cause : remember how the foolish mân blasphémeth Thee dāi-ly.

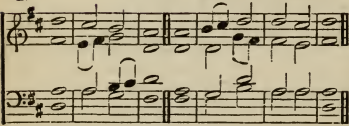

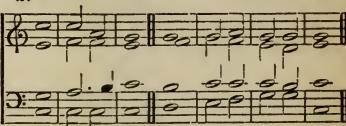

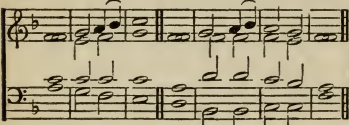

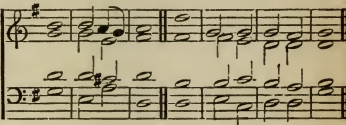

24 Forget not the vōice of Thine é-ne-mies : the presumption of them that hate Thee * incrēaseth év-er more and more.

f O COME,* let us sing ún-to^ the Lord : let us heartily rejoice in the stréngth of our sal-vá-tion.

2 Let us come before His prêsence with thanksgí-ving : and shêw ourselves glád in Him with Psalms.

3 For the Lôrd is a gréat God : and a gréat Kíng above all gods.

4 In His hand are all the côrners of the earth : and the strength of the hílls is Hís ál-so.

5 The sea is Hís, and He máde it : and His hânds prepár-ed^ the dry land.

thât do Thy wón-drous works declare.

3 When I receive the cōngregâtion : I shall jûdge accórd-ing un-to right.

4 The earth is weak,* and all the inhâbiters thêre-of : I bear ûp the píl-lars ôf it.

mf 5 I said unto the fools,* Dêal
not so mād-ly : and to the ungôdly, Sét not up your horn.

6 Set not ûp your hórñ on high :
and speâk not with a stîff neck.

7 For promotion cometh neither from the êast, nór from the west :

nôr yêt from the south.

8 And why? Gôd is the Judge :
He putteth down one,* and sêtteth
ûp an-ô-ther.

9 For in the hand of the Lord
there is a cûp, and the wíne is red :
it is full mîxed, and He púr-eth out of the same.

10 Âs for the drégs there-of : all the ungôdly of the êarth shall drínk them,* and suck them out.

f 11 But I will talk of the Gôd of Já-cob : ând praise Him for êv-er.

12 All the horns of the ungôdly âlso wíll I break : and the horns of the ríghteous shall bé ex-âlt-ed.

mf 5 The proud are robbed,* thêy have slépt their sleep : and all the men whose hands were míghty have found nô-thing.

f 6 At Thy rebuke, O Gôd of Já-cob : both the châriot and hórse are fâll-en.

mf 7 Thou, even Thôu art to be fêar-ed : and who may stand in Thy síght whén Thou art ân-grý ?

f 8 Thou didst cause Thy jûdgment to be héard from heaven : the êarth trém-bled, and was still, mp I WILL crý unto Gôd with my voice : even unto God will I cry with my voice,* and Hê shall héark-en un-to me.

2 In the time of my trôuble I sought the Lord : my sore ran, and ceased not in the night-season ;* my sôul refús-ed côm-fort.

3 When I am in hêaviness, I will hînk upon God : when my hêart is ex-ed, I will com-plain.

4 Thou holdest mine êyes wâ-ing : I am so fêeble, thât I can-not speak.

5 I have considêred the dâys of old : and the yêars that are past.

6 I câll to remém-brance my song : and in the night I commune with mine own heart,* and seârch out my spi-rits.

7 Will the Lord absent Himsêlf for êv-er, and will He be nô môre in-tréat-ed ?

8 Is His mercy clean gône for êv-er : and is His promise come útterly to an ênd for ev-er-more ?

9 Hath God forgôttén to be grâ-cious : and will He shut up His loving kîndness ín dis-plêa-sure ?

10 And I said,* It is mine ôwn infir-mi-ty : but I will remember the years of the right hând of the Môst High-est.

11 I will remêmber the wôrks of the Lord : and call to mînd Thy wón-ders of ôld time.

12 I will think âlso of âll Thy works : and my tâlking shall bé of Thy dô-ings.

13 Thy way, O Gôd, is hô-ly : who is so grêat a Gôd as ôur God ?

14 Thou art the God that dôeth wón-ders : and hast declared Thy pôwer amóng the pëo-ple.

15 Thou hast mightily delîvered Thy pëo-ple : even the sôns of Já-cob and Jö-seph.

16 The waters saw Thee, O God,* the waters saw Thêe, and wêre a-fraid : the dêpths âl-so wêre tröubl-ed.

17 The clouds poured out water,* the âir thún-der-ed : and Thine âr-rows went a-broad.

18 The voice of Thy thunder was hêard rôund a-bout : the lightnings shone upon the ground,* the êarth was móv-ed, and shook with-al.

19 Thy way is in the sea,* and Thy paths in the grêat wâ-ters : and Thy fôot-steps are not known.

20 Thou lêddeest Thy pëo-ple like sheep : by the hând of Mó-ses and Aä-ron.

3 Which we have heard and known : and sũch as our fá-thers^ have tũld us ;

4 That we should not hide them from the chũldren of the generá-tions^ to come : but to shew the honour of the Lord,* His mighty and wũderful wũrks that He hath done.

mf 5 He made a covenant with Jacob,* and gave Ísraēl a law : which He commanded our fore-fáthers to teách their chũl-dren ;

6 That their postēry might knũw it : and the chũldren which were yet un-born ;

7 To the intēnt that when thēy came up : thēy might shēw their chil-dren^the same ;

8 That they might pũt their trúst in God : and not to forget the works of Gũd, but to kēep His^com-mánd-ments ;

9 And not to be as their fore-fathers,* a faithless and stũbborn generá-tion : a generation that set not their heart aright,* and whose spirit clēaveth not stēd-fastly un-to God ; and the wonderful works that Hē had shēw-ed fũr them.

10 Like as the chũldren of É-phra-im : who being harnessed, and carrying bows,* turned themselves báck in the dáy of bāt-tle.

¶ 11 They kept not the cũvenánt of God : and wũld not wálk in Hĩs law ;

12 But forgát what Hē had done :

mf 13 Marvellous things did He in the sight of our forefathers,* in the lánd of É-gypt : éven in the field of Zũ-an.

14 He divided the sēa, and lét them^go through : He made the wáters to stánd on an heap.

15 In the day-time also He lēd them wĩth a cloud : and all the nĩght through wĩth^a light of fire.

16 He clave the hard rũcks in the wĩl-der-ness ; and gave them drink thereof,* as it had bēen oũt of the grēat depth.

17 He brought waters oũt of the stũny rock : so that it gũshed oũt like^the rĩ-vers.

¶ 18 Yet for all this they sinned mũre agáinst Him : and provoked the Most Hĩghēst in the wĩl-der-ness.

19 They tēmpted Gũd in^their hearts : and required méat for their lust.

20 They spake against Gũd also, sáying : Shall God prepare a tábte in the wĩl-der-ness ?

21 He smote the stony rock in-deed,* that the water gushed out,* and the strēams flũwed wĩth-al : but can He give bread also,* or provĩde flēsh fũr^His pēo-ple ?

¶ 22 When the Lord heard thĩs, Hē^was wroth : so the fire was kindled in Jacob,* and there came up heavy dispłēasure agáinst Is-ra-el ;

23 Because they believêd nót in God : and pût not their trúst in His help.

24 So He commâded the clóuds a-bóve : ând ó-penêd the doors of heaven.

25 He rained down manna also upôn them fôr to eat : ând gâve them food from heaven.

26 So mân did eat án-gels' food : fôr He sént them meat e-nough.

27 He caused the east-wind to blôw ún-der heaven : and through His pôwer He bróught in the south-west-wind.

28 He rained flesh upôn them as thîck as dust : and feathered fowls * lîke as the sând of the sea.

29 He let it fáll amóng their tents : even round abóut their há-bi-tâ-tion.

30 So they did eat, and were well filled ; * for He gâve them their ówn de-sire : they were nót disappoint-ed of their lust.

mf 31 But while the meat was yet in their mouths,* the heavy wrath of God came upon them,* and slêw the wéal-thiêst of them : yea, and smote down the chosen mên that wére in Is-ra-el.

32 But for all thîs they sín-ned yet more : and believêd nót His won-drous works.

33 Therefore their days did He consúme in vá-ni-ty : ând their yéars in trôu-ble.

34 When He slêw them, they sôught Him : and turned them early, and enquí-red af-ter God.

35 And they remêmbered that Gôd was their strength : and that the High Gôd was their Re-dëem-er.

36 Nevertheless,* they did but flâtter Him with their mouth : and dissêmbled with Him in their tongue.

37 For their hêart was not whóle with Him : neither continued they stêdfast ín His co-ve-nant.

p 38 But He was so merciful,* that Hê forgâve their mis-deeds : ând destróy-ed thê m not.

39 Yea, many a time tûrned He His wráth a-way : and would not suffer His whóle displéa-sure to a-rise.

40 For He considêred that they wére but flesh : and that they wêre even a wind that passeth awáy, and côm-eth not a-gain.

mf 41 Many a time did they provoke Him ín the wíl-der-ness : and griêved Him ín the dë-sert.

42 They turned bâck, and témp-ted God : and moved the Hôly Óne in Is-ra-el.

43 They thóught nót of His hand : and of the day when He delîvered them from the hánd of the e-ne-my ;

44 Hôw he had wought His mîra-cles in E-gypt : and His wônders in the fîeld of Zü-an.

45 He turned their wâters ín-to blood : so that they mîght not drínk of the rî-vers.

46 He sent lice amông them, and devôur-ed them up : ând frôgs to de-strôy them.

47 He gave their fruit ûnto the câter-pil-lar : and their lâbour ûnto the grass-hop-per.

48 He destroyed their vînes with háil-stones : and their mûlberry-trêes with the frost.

49 He smote their cattle âlso with háil-stones : and their flôcks with hôt thun-der-bolts.

50 He cast upon them the furiousness of His wrath, * anger, displêasure, and trôu-ble : and sent êvil ân-gels amông them.

51 He made a way to His indignation, * and spared nôt their sôul from death : but gave their life ôver to the pes-ti-lence ;

53 But as for His own people, * He lêd them fôrth like sheep : and cârried them in the wíl-derness like a flock.

54 He brought them out sâfely, that they should not fear : and overwhêlmed their é-nemies with the sea.

55 And brought them within the bôrders of His sânc-tua-ry : even to His mountain * which He pûr-chased with His rîght hand.

56 He cast out the heathen also before them : caused their land to be divided among them for an heritage,* and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.

mp 57 So they tempted,* and displeased the Móst High God : and képt not His tes-timo-nies ;

58 But turned their backs,* and fell away like their fóre-fa-thers : starting asíde líke a bro-ken bow.

59 For they grieved Hím with their híll-al-tars : and provoked Him to displéasure wíth their i-ma-ges.

60 When God hêard thís, He was wroth : and took sôre displéasure at Is-ra-el.

61 So that He forsook the tabernâcle in Sî-lo : even the tênt that He had píтч-ed a-mông men.

62 He delivered their power ínto captí-vi-ty : and their béauty ínto the e-nemy's hand.

63 He gave His people over also ún-to the sword : and was wrôth wíth His inhe-ri-tance.

64 The fire consumed their yôung men : and their mâidens were not gíven to mâr-riage.

65 Their priêsts were slaín with the sword : and there were no wídows to máke lamen-tä-tion.

ff 66 So the Lord awâkêd as óne out of sleep : and líke a gíant refresh-ed with wine.

67 He smote His ênemies in the hín-der parts : and pút them tó a per-pe-tual shame.

mf 68 He refused the tabernâcle of Jô-seph : and chòse not the tríbe of E-phra-im ;

69 But chose the tríbe of Jû-dah : even the híll of Sôn wích He löv-ed.

70 And there He búilt His témp-le on high : and laid the foundation of it* líke the ground wích He hath máde con-ti-nual-ly.

p 71 He chose David also His sêr-vant : and tóok him away from the shêep-folds.

72 As he was following the ewes great with yôung ones He tóok him : that he might feed Jacob His people,* and Israel Hís in-he-ri-tance.

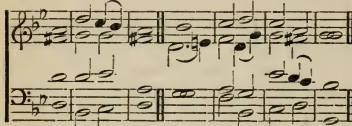

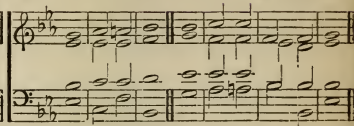

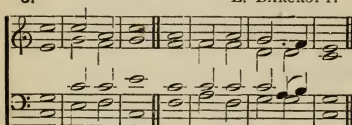

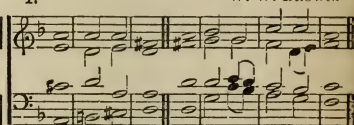

73 So he fed them with a fâithful and trúe heart : and ruled them prudently wíth all his power.

mp O GOD, * the heathen are come into Thine inhé-ri-

2 The dead bodies of Thy ser-

PSALM 81. Exultate Deo.

1. DR. T. S. DUPUIS.

2. J. D. HACKETT.

3. J. HINDLE.

4. L. BARCROFT.

SING we merrily unto Gód our strength : make a cheerful noise ûnto the Gód of Jä-cob.

2 Take the psalm,* bring hâther the tã-bret : the mêrry hârp with the lute.

3 Blow up the trûmpet in the nêw-moon : even in the time appointed, * and upôn our só-lemn féast-day.

mf 4 For this was made a státute for Ís-ra-el : and a lâw of the Gód of Jä-cob.

5 This He ordained in Jôseph for a tés-timo-ny : when he came out of the land of Égypt, and had héard a strange lãn-guage.

mf 6 I eased his shôulder from the búr-den : and his hânds were delívered from mak-ing^the pots.

7 Thou calledst upon Me in troubles,* and Í delí-vered thee : and heard thee,* what tîme as the stôrm fell upon thee.

8 Í prôved thee âl-so : ât the wã-ters of strife.

9 Hear, O My people,* and I will assûre thee, O Ís-ra-el : îf thou wilt héark-en un-to Me,

10 There shall no strânge god bé in thee : neither shalt thou wôrship á-ny o-ther god.

11 I am the Lord thy God,* Who brought thee out of the lând of É-gypt : open thy mouth wîde, and Í shall fîll it.

12 But My people wôuld not héar My voice : and Ísrael would nót o-bëy Me.

13 So I gave them ûp unto their ówn hearts' lusts : and let them follow their ówn imá-gi-nã-tions.

p 14 O that My people would have hêarkened ún-to Me : for if Ísrael had wãlk-ed in My ways, 15 I should soon have put dôwn their é-ne-mies : and turned my hand agâinst their ád-ver-sã-ries.

16 The haters of the Lôrd should have been fôund liars : but their tîme should have endûr-ed^for ë-ver.

17 He should have fed them also* with the fînest whêat-flôur : and with honey out of the stony rock * should Í have sã-tis-fîed thee.

PSALM 83. Deus, quis similis ?

2 For lo, Thine enemies mâke a múr-mur-ing : and they that hâte Thee have líft up their head.

3 They have imagined craftily agâinst Thy pêo-ple : and taken côunsel agâinst Thy se-cret ones.

4 They have said,* Come, and let us root them out,* that they be nô more a pêo-ple : and that the 9 But do Thou to them as ûnto the Má-dian-ites : unto Sisera,* and unto Jâbin at the broók of Kî-son ;

10 Who pêrished at En-dor : and becâme as the dűng of the earth.

11 Make them and their princes like Ó-reb^and Zeb : yea, make all their princes * like as Zêba ánd Sal-mă-na ;

12 Who say,* Lêt us táke to^our-selves : the hóuses of Gód in^pos-ses-sion.

13 O my God, make them líke ún-to^a wheel : ánd as the stub-ble before the wind ;

14 Like as the fire that búrneth úp the wood : and as the fláme that consúm-eth^the möun-tains.

f 15 Persecute them even sô with Thy tēm-pest : and mâke them afraid with Thy storm.

16 Make their fâces ashám-ed,^ O Lord : thât they may seek Thy Name.

17 Let them be confounded and vexed ever móre and more : let them be pût to sháme, and pē-rish.

18 And they shall know thât Thou,* whose Nâme is JEHÓ-VAH : art only the Most Hígh-est Ó-ver all the earth.

5 As soon as Thou scatterest and fāde away súd-denly like the grass.

6 In the morning it is grēen, and grów-eth up : but in the evening it is cut down,* driêd úp, and with-er-ed.

7 For we consume away in Thy displēa-sure : and are afraid at Thy wrāthful ín-dig-nā-tion.

8 Thou hast set our mîsdeeds bêfore Thee : and our secret sîns in the líght of Thy coun-te-nance.

9 For when Thou art angry* âll

then but labour and sorrow,* so soon pāsseth it away and we are gone.

f PRAISE the Lôrd, Ó my soul :
O Lord my God,* Thou art become exceeding glorious ;* Thou art clôthed with májesty and hô-nour.

2 Thou deckest Thyself with light * as it wêre with a gâr-ment :

and spreadest out the hêavens líke
a cûr-tain.

3 Who layeth the beams of His châmbers in the wâ-ters : and ma-keth the clouds His chariot,* and wâlketh upon the wîngs of the wind.

mf 4 He maketh His ângels spî-rits : and His mînistêrs a flaming fire.

5 He laid the foundâtions of the earth : that it nêver should môve at a-ny time.

6 Thou coveredst it with the deep* lîke as with a gâr-ment : the wâters stând in the hills.

7 At Thÿ rebûke they flee : at the vôice of Thy thûn-der they are a-fraid.

8 They go up as high as the hills* and dôwn to the vâl-leys be-neath : even unto the place which Thôu hast appoînt-ed for them.

9 Thou hast set them their bôunds which they shall not pass : neither tûrn agâin to co-ver the earth.

p 10 He sendeth the springs into the rî-vers : whîch rûn a-mong the hills.

11 All beasts of the fiêld drînk there-of : and the wîld âss-es quench their thirst.

12 Besides them* shall the fowls of the air have their hâbitâ-tion : and sîng amông the brânc-h-es.

13 He wâtereth the hîlls from a-bove : the earth is fîlled with the frûit of Thÿ works.

14 He bringeth forth grâss for the cât-tle : and grêen hêrb for the ser-vice of men ;

15 That He may bring food out of the earth,* and wine that maketh glâd the héart of man : and oil to make him a cheerful countenance,* and brêad to stérngth-en mân's heart.

mf 16 The trees of the Lord âlso are fûll of sap : even the cedars of Lîbanus which Hé hath plânt-ed ;

17 Wherein the bîrds máke their nests : and the fîr-trees are a dwéll-ing for the stork.

18 The high hills are a rêfuge for the wîld goats : and so are the stôny rôcks for the cö-nies.

p 19 He appointed the moon for cêrtain sêa-sons : and the sùn knôw-eth his go-ing down.

20 Thou makest dârkness that it máy be night : wherein âll the béasts of the forest do move.

mf 22 The sun ariseth,* and they get them awây togê-ther : and lây them dôwn in their dens.

23 Man goeth forth to his work,* ând to his lâ-bour : ûntîl the êve-ning.

f 24 O Lord, how mânifold âre Thy works : in wisdom hast Thou made them all ;* the êarth is fûll of Thy rîch-es.

mf 25 So is the great and wide sêa âl-so : wherein are things creeping innûmerable, both smâll and grêat beasts.

26 There go the ships,* and thêre is that Levî-a-than : whom Thou hast mâde to táke his pastime there-in.

27 Thêse wait âll upon Thee : that Thou mayest give them mêat in dÛe sêa-son.

28 When Thou givest it thêm they gá-ther it : and when Thou openest Thy hând thêy are fill-ed with good.

p 29 When Thou hidest Thy fâce they are trôub-led : pp when Thou takest away their breath they die,* and are tûrned agâin to thêir dust.

f 30 When Thou lettest Thy breath go fôrth thêy shall be made : and Thôu shalt renêw the face of the earth.

ff 31 The glorious Majesty of the Lord shall endûre for êv-er : the Lôrd shall rejoíce in Hîs works.

p 32 The earth shall trêmbles at the lóok of Him : if He do but tóuch the hîlls, they shall smoke.

f 33 I will sing unto the Lôrd as lóng as I live : I will praise my Gôd while I háve my bê-ing.

34 And so shall my wôrds plêase Him : my jôy shall bê in the Lord.

35 As for sinners,* they shall be consumed out of the earth,* and the ungôdly shall côme to an end : praise thou the Lôrd, O my sôul, praise the Lord.

they hâted His pêo-ple : and dealt untrûly wîth His sêr-vants.

26 Then sent He Môses His sêr-

p 28 He sent dârkness, and it was 29 He turned their wâters ín-to 34 He spake the word,* and the

GIVE thanks unto the Lord,* for Hê is grâ-cious : and His mêr-cy endûr-eth for ëv-er.

2 Who can express the nôble acts of the Lord : ôr shêw forth all His praise?

3 Blessed are they that âlway keep judg-ment : and dô right-eous-ness.

p 4 Remember me, O Lord,*
according to the favour that Thou bearest ûnto Thy pëo-ple : O vîsit me with Thy sal-vâ-tion;

5 That I may see the fêl-city of Thy chôn-sen : and rejoice in the gladness of Thy people,* and give thânks with Thîne in-he-ri-tance.

6 We have sinned with our fâthers : we have done amîss, and dêalt wick-ed-ly.

7 Our fathers regarded not Thy wonders in Egypt,* neither kept they Thy great gôodness in remêmbrance : but were disobedient at the sêa, éven at the Rêd Sea.

mf 8 Nevertheless,* He helped thêm for His Nâme's sake : that Hê might mâke His power to be known.

9 He rebuked the Red Sea also,*
and ît was drî-ed up : so He led thêm through the dêep, as through a wil-der-ness.

10 And He saved them from the âdversâ-ry's hand : and delivered thêm frôm the hând of the e-ne-my.

11 As for those that troubled thêm,* the wâters overwhêlm-ed thêm : thêre wás not one of them left.

12 Then beliêved thêy His words:
and sâng prâise un-to Him.

p 13 But within a whîle they forgât His works : and wôuld not abîde His cöun-sel.

14 But lust came upôn them in the wîl-der-ness : and they têmpted Gód in the dê-sert.

15 And He gâve them thêir desire : and sent lêanness withál into their soul.

16 They angered Môses also ín
the tents : and Aâron the sâint of the Lord.

f 17 So the earth opened,* and swâllowed up Dâ-than : and covered the congregâtion of A-bî-ram.

18 And the fire was kindled in their côm-pa-ny : the flâme burnt úp the un-göd-ly.

mf 19 They made a cãlf in Hó-reb :
and wôrshipped the mól-ten î-mage.

20 Thus they tûrned their glô-ry :
into the similitude of a cãlf that eat-eth hay.

21 And they forgat Gôd their Sâ-viour : Who had done so grêat things in Ê-gypt ;

22 Wondrous wôrks in the lând of Ham : and feârful things by[^]the Rêd Sea.

23 So He said, He would have destroyed them,* had not Moses His chosen stood befôre Him ín the gap : to turn away His wrathful indignation,* lêst He shôuld destrôy them.

p 24 Yea, they thought scôrn of that plêa-sant land : and gâve no
cré-dence unto His word ;

25 But mûrmured ín their tents :
and hearkened nôt unto the vóice of the Lord.

26 Then lift He up his hând agâinst them : to overthrôw them
ín the wil-der-ness ;

27 To cast out their seed amông
the nâ-tions : ând to scátter them in the lands.

28 They joined themsêlves unto Bá-al-peor : and âte the ôf-ferings of the dead.

mf 29 Thus they provoked Him to anger * with their ôwn invêntions : and the plâgue was grêat
a-mông them.

30 Then stood up Phînêës and prây-ed : and sô the plâgue cêas-ed.

31 And that was counted unto hîm for rîgh-teous-ness : among all postêrities fôr ev-er-more.

p 32 They angered Him âlso at the wá-ters[^]of strife : so that He pûnished Mô-ses for their sakes ;

33 Because they provôked his spî-rit : so that he spâke unadvîsedly with his lips.

mf 34 Neither destroyed thêy the hêa-then : âs the Lórd com-manded them ;

35 But were mingled amông the hêa-then : ând leârn-ed thêir works.

36 Insomuch that they worshipped their idols,* which tûrned to their ôwn de-cay : yea, they offered their sons and their dâughters ún-to dê-vils ;

37 And shed innocent blood,* even the blood of their sôns and of their dâugh-ters : whom they offered unto the idols of Canaan ;* and the lând wás de-filed with blood.

38 Thus were they stâined with their ôwn works : and went a whôring with their ôwn in-vên-tions.

f 39 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled agâinst His peô-ple : insomuch that He abhôrred his ôwn in-he-ri-tance.

40 And He gave them over into the hând of the hêa-then : and they that hâted them were lórd's o-ver them.

mf 41 Their ênemies opprêss-ed
them : and hâd them ín sub-jêc-tion.

42 Many a time did Hê delf-ver them : but they rebelled agâinst Him with their own inventions,* and were brôught dôwn ín[^]their wick-ed-ness.

43 Nevertheless, * when He sâw their advér-si-ty : Hê hêard their com-plaint.

44 Hethought upon His covenant, and pitied them, * according unto the mûltitude of His mêr-cies : yea, He made all those that led them awây cáp-tive to pi-ty them.

45 Deliver us, O Lord our God, * and gather us from amông the hêa-then : that we may give thanks unto Thy holy Name, * and mâke our bôast of Thÿ praise.

f O GIVE thanks unto the Lord,*

2 Let them give thanks * whom delîvered from the hând of the 3 And gathered them out of the lands,* from the eâst, and from the west ; frôm the nôrth, and from the south.

(Minor.)

p 4 They went astray in the wilderness out of the way : and fôund no cí-ty to dwell in ;

5 Hûngry and thîrs-ty : their sôul
faînt-ed in them.

mf 6 So they cried unto the Lôrd
in their trôu-ble : and He delîvered
thém from their dis-tress.

7 He led them fôrth by the rîght way : that they might gô to the cí-ty where they dwelt.

(Major.)

(Full) f 8 O that men would

(Can.) f 9 For He sâtisfieth the êmp-ty soul : and filleth the hûngry sôul with gôod-ness.

(Minor.)

p 10 Such as sit in darkness,* and in the shá-dow of death : being fast bôund in mf-se-ry and iron ;

11 Because they rebelled agâinst

High-est ;

pp 12 He also brought down their mf 13 So when they cried unto the Lôrd in their trôu-ble : He delîvered them out of their dis-

14 For He brought them out of darkness,* and out of the shá-dow of death : and brâke their bônds in thêir of-fence : and becâuse of thêir

wick-ed-ness.

18 Their sôul abhôrred all mânner of meat : and they were êven hârd at dëath's door.

mf 19 So when they cried unto the Lôrd in their trôu-ble : He delîvered

20 He sent His wôrd, and héal-ed

(Can.) mf 33 Who turneth the floods into a wîl-der-ness : and drîeth up the wa-ter-springs.

p 34 A fruitful land mâketh He bâr-ren : for the wîckedness of thém that dwell there-in.

(Major.)

mf 35 Again,* He maketh the wilderness a stânding wâ-ter : and wâter-springs of a dry ground.

36 And there He sêtteth the hûn-gry : that they may bûild them
a cí-ty to dwëll in ;

37 That they may sow their land,*
and plânt vîne-yards : to yîeld them
fruits of in-crease.

38 He blesseth them,* so that they mûltiply excéed-ing-ly : and suffereth not their cát-tle to decrease.

(Minor.)

p 39 And again, when they are mînished, and brôught low : through oppression,* through âny plâgue, or trôu-ble ;

40 Though He suffer them to be evil intrêated through tÿ-rants : and let them wander out of the wâ-y in the wil-der-ness ;

(Major.)

mf 41 Yet helpeth He the pôor out of mî-se-ry : and maketh him hôuseholds lîke a flock of sheep.

42 The righteous will côsîder
thîs, and re-joice : and the mouth of all wîckedness shâll be stöped.

43 Whoso is wîse will pôn-der Changeable.

mf HOLD not Thy tōngue, O Gōd of my praise : for the mouth of the ungodly,* yea, the mouth of the decēitful is ó-pened upōn me.

2 And they have spoken agāinst me with fālse tongues : they compassed me about also with words of hatred,* and fōught agāinst me without a cause.

3 For the love that I had unto them,* lo, they take nōw my cōntrary part : but I gíve myself un-to prayer.

4 Thus have they rewārded me é-vil for good : and há-tred for my good will.

5 Set thou an ungodly man to be rŭler ó-ver him : and let Sātan stānd at his right hand.

6 When sentence is given upon him,* lēt him bé con-demn'd : and let his prāyer be túrn-ed in-to sin.

7 Lēt his dāys be few : and let anōther táke his óf-fice.

8 Let his chīldren be fá-ther-less : and his wífe a wī-dow.

9 Let his children be vāgabonds, and bég their bread : let them seek it also óut of dé-solate plā-ces.

10 Let the extortioner consŭme áll that he hath : and let the strānger spoíl his lā-bour.

11 Let there be nô man to pí-ty him : nor to have compassion upōn his fá-therless chīl-dren.

12 Let his postērity bé de-stroy'd : and in the next generātion let his náme be clean put out.

13 Let the wickedness of his fathers be had in remēbrance in the síght of the Lord : and let not the sīn of his mó-ther be done a-way.

14 Let them álway be befóre the Lord : that He may root out the memōrial of theŷm from off the earth ;

15 And that,* because his mīnd was nót to do good : but persecuted the poor helpless man,* that he might slay hīm that was véx-ed at the heart.

16 His delight was in cursing,* and it shall háppen ún-to him : he loved not blessing,* thēfore shall it be far from him.

17 He clothed himself with cursing,* līke as with a rái-ment : and it shall come into his bowels like water,* and līke óil in-to his bones.

18 Let it be unto him as the clōke that he háth upon him : and as the gīrdle that he is ál-way gird-ed with-al.

19 Let it thus happen from the Lord * únto mine é-ne-mies : and to thōse that speak é-vil against my soul.

p 20 But deal Thou with me, O Lord God,* accōrding ún-to Thy Name : fōr swēet is Thy mē-ry.

21 O deliver me,* for I am helpless and poor : and my hēart is wound-ed withīn me.

22 I go hence like the shādow that depárt-eth : and am driven away ás the grass-hop-per.

23 My knees are wēak through fāst-ing : my flesh is dried úp for wānt of fāt-ness.

24 I became also a reprōach ún-to them : they that lōoked upōn me shaked their heads.

25 Hēlp me, O Lórd my God : O save me accōrding tó Thy mē-ry.

mf 26 And they shall know,* how that thīs is Thy hand : and that Thōu, Lórd, hast dōne it.

27 Though they cŭrse, yet blēss Thou : and let them be confounded that rise up against me ; * bŭt lēt Thy ser-vant re-joice.

28 Let mine ádversaries be clōth-ed with shame : and let them cover themselves with their ówn confú-sion, as with a cloke.

29 As for me,* I will give great thāks unto the Lórd with my mouth : and práise Him amóng the mul-ti-tude ; mp 5 Such knowledge is too wonderful * and excellent for me : I cannot attain unto it.

30 For He shall stand at the right hánd of the poor : to save his sōul from unríght-eous jŭd-ges.

4 Thou hast fashioned me behind and before : and laid Thine hand upon me.

6 Whither shall I go then from Thy Spirit : or whither shall I go then from Thy presence ?

7 If I climb up into heaven, Thou art there : if I go down to hell, Thou art there also.

8 If I take the wings of the morn-ing : and remain in the uttermost parts of the sea ;

9 Even there also shall Thy hand lead me : and Thy right hand shall hold me.

10 If I say, * Peradventure the darkness shall cover me : then shall my night be turned to day.

11 Yea, the darkness is no darkness with Thee, * but the night is as clear as the day : the darkness and light to Thee are both a-like.

12 For my reins are Thine : Thou hast covered me in my mother's womb.

13 I will give thanks unto Thee, * for I am fearfully and wonderfully made : marvellous are Thy works, * and that my soul know-eth right well.

14 My bones are not hid from Thee : though I be made secretly, * and fashioned beneath in the earth.

15 Thine eyes did see my substance, * yet being imper-fect : and in Thy book were all my members writ-ten ;

16 Which day by day were fash-ion-ed : when as yet there was none of them.

mf 17 How dear are Thy counsels unto me, O God : O how great is the sum of them !

18 If I tell them, * they are more in number than the sand : when I wake up I am pre-sent with Thee.

20 For they speak unrighteously against Thee : and Thine enemies take Thy Name in vain.

21 Do not I hate them, O Lôrð, that hâte Thee : and am not I grieved with thôse that rise up against Thee?

22 Yêa, I hâte them right sore : even as thôugh they wêre mine e-ne-mies.

23 Try me, O God, * and sêek the grôund of my heart : prôve me, and exá-mine my thoughts.

24 Look well * if there be any way of wîckedness ín me : and lead me in the wâý év-er-lâst-ing.

4 Keep me, O Lord, * from the hânds of the ungôd-ly : pre-sêrve me from the wicked men, * who are pûrposed to overthréw my gö-ings.

5 The proud have laid a snare for me, * and spread a nêt abróad with cords : yêa, and set tráps in my way.

6 I said unto the Lôrð, Thôu art my God : hêar the vóice of my prayers, O Lord.

7 O Lord Gôd, Thou stréngth of my health : Thou hast covered my hêad in the dâý of băt-tle.

8 Let not the ungodly hâve his desíre, O Lord : let not his mischievous imagination prô-sper, lést they be too proud.

mf 9 Let the mischief of their own lips * fâll upon the hêad of them : thât cóm-pass me a-bout.

10 Let hot burning côals fâll upon them : let them be cast into the fire, and into the pit, * that they nêver rise up a-gain.

11 A man full of words * shall not prô-sper upôn the earth : evil shall hunt the wicked pêrson to ó-ver-thréw him.

12 Sure I am * that the Lôrð will avénge the poor : and maintáin the cause of the hêlp-less.

Voce mea ad Dominum.

¶ I CRÎED unto the Lórd with[^] my voice : yea, even unto the Lord did I mâke my súp-pli-cä-tion.

2 I poured out my complâints before Him : and shêwed Him of my trôu-ble.

3 When my spirit was in heâviness Thou knêw-est[^] my path : in the way wherein I walked * have they prîvily laïd a snare for me.

4 I looked âlso upon my rîght hand : and saw there was nô man that would knôw me.

5 I had nô place to flée un-to : and nô man cár-ed for my soul.

3 There is neither spêech nor lân-guage : but their vôi-ces are heard a-mông them.

4 Their sound is gone ôut into âll lands : and their wôrds into the ênds of the world.

5 In them hath He set a tâber-nacle fôr the sun : which cometh forth as a bridegroom out of his chamber,* and rejôiceth as a gîant to run his course.

3 Thou art faîrer than the chîl-

f 4 Gird Thee with Thy sword upon Thy thigh,* O Thôu Most Mîgh-ty : accôrding to Thy wôr-ship and re-nown.

5 Good luck have Thôu with Thine hô-nour : ride on, because of the word of truth,* of meekness, and righteousness,* and Thy right hând shall teách Thee ter-rible things.

6 Thy arrows are very sharp,* and the people shall be subdûed ún-to Thee : even in the midst among the Kíng's e-ne-mies.

7 Thy seat, O God,* endûreth for êv-er : the sceptre of Thy kíng-dom is a ríght scëp-tre.

8 Thou hast loved righteousness,* and hâted íní-qui-ty : wherefore God, even Thy God,* hath anointed Thee with the oil of glâdness abóve Thy fëll-ows.

9 All Thy garments smell of myrrh,* âloes, and cás-si-a : out of the ivory pâlaces, wherebý they have made Thee glad.

10 Kings' daughters were among Thy hônourable wô-men : upon Thy right hand did stand the queen in a vesture of gold,* wrought about with dí-vers cò-lours.

11 Hearken, O daughter,* and consíder, ínclíne thine ear : forget also thine own pëople, ánd thy fa-ther's house.

12 So shall the King have plëasure in thy béau-ty : for He is thy Lord Gôd, and wór-ship thôu Him.

13 And the daughter of Tÿre shall be thére with a gift : like as the rich also among the people* shall make their súpplicá-tion befóre Thee.

14 The King's dâughter is all gló-rious with-in : her clóthing ís of wróught gold.

15 She shall be brought unto the King in râiment of née-dle work : the virgins that be her fellows shall bear her company,* ánd shall be bróught ún-to Thee.

16 With joy and glâdness shall théy be brought : and shall enter ínto the Kíng's pâ-lace.

17 Instead of thy fathers* thôu shalt have kíl-dren : whom thou mâyest make prín-ces in äll lands.

* A. H. BROWN.

Chan.

(Major.)

mf MY song shall be alway of the loving-kîndness of the Lord : with my mouth will I ever be shewing Thy truth * from one generâtion tô an-ô-ther.

2 For I have said,* Mercy shall be set ûp for êv-er : Thy trûth shalt Thou stâ-blish in the heavens.

3 I have made a côvenant with My chô-sen : I have swôrn unto Dâ-vid-My sêr-vant ;

4 Thy seed will I stâ-blish for êv-er : and set up Thy throne *
from one generâtion tô an-ô-ther.

f 5 O Lord,* the very heavens shall prâise Thy wôn-drous works :
and Thy truth in the cômgregâ-tion of the saints.

6 For who is hê amóng the clouds : that shall bê compâr-ed
un-to^the Lord ?

J. TRAVERS.

7 And what is hê amóng the gods : that shâll be lîke un-to^the Lord ?

8 God is very greatly to be feared in the côm-cil of the saints : and to be had in reverence of all thê m that are rôund a-bôut Him.

9 O Lord God of Hosts,* whô is lîke unto Thee : Thy truth, most mighty Lôrd, is on eve-ry side.

10 Thou rulest the râging of the sea : Thou stillest the waves thereôf whên they a-rise.

11 Thou hast subdued Êgypt, and destrô-yed it : Thou hast scattered thine ênemies ab-rôad with Thy migh-ty arm.

12 The heavens are Thine,* the êarth ál-so^is Thine : Thou hast laid the foundation of the round wôrld, and ál that there-in is.

13 Thou hast mâde the nórth and the south : Tabor and Hêrmon shall rejoice in Thy Name.

14 Thou hast a mîgh-ty arm : strong is Thy hând, and hîgh is Thy right hand.

15 Righteousness and equity are the habitâtion of Thy seat : mercy and trûth shall go be-fore Thy face.

mf 16 Blessed is the people, O Lôrð, that can rejoice in Thee : they shall wâlk in the lîght of Thy coun-te-nance.

17 Their delight shall be dâily in Thy Name : and in Thy righteousness shall they make their boast.

18 For Thou art the glôry of their strength : and in Thy loving-kindness * Thôu shalt lîft up our horns.

19 For the Lôrð is our de-fence : the Hôly One of Is-rael is our King.

f 20 Thou spakest sometime in visions ûnto Thy saînts, and saidst : I have laid help upon one that is mighty ; * I have exalted one chôsen out of the pëo-ple.

21 I have found Dâvid My sêr-vant : with My holy ôil have I a-noint-ed him.

22 My hând shall hólð him fast : and My ârm shall strength-en him.

23 The enemy shall not be able to dô him ví-o-lence : the son of wickedness shall not hûrt him.

24 I will smite down his fôes before his face : and plâgue thém that hâte him.

mf 25 My truth also and My mêrcy shall bé with him : and in My Nâme shall his hórñ be ex-âlt-ed.

26 I will set his dominion âlso in the sea : and his rîght hand in the floods.

f 27 He shall call Me,* Thôu art my Fä-ther : my Gôd, and my strông sal-vä-tion.

28 And I will mâke him My fîrst born : hîgher than the kîngs of the earth.

29 My mercy will I keep for hîm for év-er-more : and My côvenant shall stând fast with him.

30 His seed also will I make to endûre for év-er : and his thrône as the days of heaven.

mf 31 But if his chîldren forsâke My law : and wâlk not in My jûd-gments ;

32 If they break My statutes,* and keep not My commând-ments : I will visit their offences with the rôd, and their sîn with scôurg-es.

33 Nevertheless, * My loving-kindness will I not ûtterly tåke from him : nôr súf-fer My truth to fail.

34 My covenant will I not break,* nor alter the thing that is gône out of My lips : I have sworn once by My holiness,* that I will nôt fail Dâ-vid.

39 Thou hast overthrown âll his hêdg-es : and brôken dôwn his strông holds.

40 All they that go bý spóil him : and he is becôme a reprôach to his neîgh-bours.

41 Thou hast set up the right hând of his é-ne-mies : and made âll his âdversá-ries to re-joice.

43 Thou hast put out his glô-ry : and cast his thrône dôwn to the ground.

44 The days of his yôuth hast Thou shórt-en-ed : and côvered him with dis-hô-nour.

the fire,* so let the ungodly pêrish
át the pre-sence of God.

3 But let the righteous be glâd and rejoíce before God : let them âlso be mér-ry and jôy-ful.

f 4 O sing unto God,* and sing
prâises ún-to His Name : magnify Him that rideth upon the heavens,
as it were upon an horse;* praise Him in His Name JÂH, and rejoíce be-fôre Him.

5 He is a Father of the fatherless,* and defendeth the câuse of the wí-dows : even God in His hôly há-bi-tâ-tion.

6 He is the God that maketh men to be of one mind in an house,* and bringeth the prisoners
ôut of captí-vi-ty : but letteth

20 He is our God,* even the God of Whom cômeth salvâ-tion : God is the Lôrd, by Whóm we escâpe death.

mf 21 God shall wound the hêad of His é-ne-mies : and the hairy scalp of such a one as gôeth on stíll ín his wick-ed-ness.

22 The Lord hath said,* I will bring My people again,* as I dîd from Bâ-san : Mine own will I bring again,* as I did sometime frôm the dêep of the sea.

23 That thy foot may be dipped in the blôod of thine é-ne-mies : and that the tongue of thy dôgs may be rêd through the same.

24 It is well seen, O Gôd, how Thou gô-est : how Thou, my God and King,* gôest ín the sanc-tua-ry.

25 The singers go before,* the minstrels fôllow âf-ter : in the midst are the damsels plâying wîth the tím-brels.

f 26 Give thanks, O Israel,* unto God the Lord in the cōngregâ-tions : frôm the grôund of the heart.

my 27 There is little Benjamin their ruler,* and the princes of Jûdah their cōun-sel : the princes of Zabulon,* ând the prín-ces of Neph-tha-li.

28 Thy God hath sênt forth strength for thee : stablish the thing, O Gôd, that Thôu hast wrought in us,

29 For Thy temple's sâke at Je-rú-sa-lem : so shall kîngs bring pré-sents un-to Thee.

30 When the company of th; spear-men, and multitude of the mighty * are scattered abroad among the beasts of the people,* so that they humbly bring piêces of sîl-ver : and when He hath scattered the pèople thát de-light in war ;

31 Then shall the princes come oût of Ê-gypt : the Morians' land shall soon strêch out her hânds un-to God.

f 32 Sing unto God,* O ye kîngs of the earth : Ô sing praîs-es unto the Lord ;

33 Who sitteth in the heavens over all* frôm the begín-ning : lo, He doth send out His voice,* yêa, and thát a migh-ty voice.

34 Ascribe ye the power to Gôd over Iâ-ra-el : His wôrship, and strength is in the clouds.

35 O God,* wonderful art Thou in Thy hôly plâ-ces : even the God of Israel;* He will give strength and power unto His pèople ; blêss-ed bê God.

p 21 Thy rebuke hath broken my heart ; * I am fûll of hêa-vi-ness : I looked for some to have pity on me,* but there was no man,* neither fôund I ány to com-fort me.

22 They gâve me gáll to eat : and when I was thirsty * they gâve me vín-e-gar to drink.

26 Let their hâbitâtion be void : and nô man to dwêll in their tents.

27 For they persecute him whom Thôu hast smít-ten : and they talk how they may vex thêem whom Thôu hast wôund-ed.

28 Let them fall from one wîcked-ness to anô-ther : and not côme ín-to Thy right-eous-ness.

29 Let them be wiped out of the bôok of the lí-ving : and not be wrîtten amóng the right-eous.

30 As for me,* when I am pôor and in hêa-vi-ness : Thy hêlp, O Gód, shall lift me up.

f 31 I will praise the Nâme of Gód with a song : and mâgnify it wîth thanks-gîv-ing.

32 This álso shall pleáse the Lord : better than a búllock thât hath horns and hoofs.

1. REV. W. FELTON.

2. DR. T. S. DUPUIS.

33 The humble shall consider this, and be glad : seek ye after God, and your soul shall live.

34 For the Lord hear-eth the poor: and despiseth not His prisoners.

35 Let heaven and earth praise Him: the sea, and all that moveth there-in.

36 For God will save Sion,* and build the cities of Ju-dah : that men may dwell there,* and have it in possession.

37 The posterity also of His servants shall inherit it : and they that love His Name shall dwell there-in.

PSALM 88. Domine Deus.

1. W. HINE.

2. * W. W. BROWN.

mp O LORD GOD of my salvation,* I have cried day and night before Thee : O let my prayer enter into Thy presence,* incline Thine ear un-to my calling.

p 2 For my soul is full of trouble : and my life draweth nigh un-to hell.

3 I am counted as one of them that go down in-to the pit : and I have been even as a man that hath no strength.

4 Free among the dead,* like unto them that are wounded, and lie in the grave: who are out of remembrance,* and are cut away from Thy hand.

5 Thou hast laid me in the low-est pit : in a place of darkness,* and in the deep.

6 Thine indignation lieth hard upon me : and Thou hast vexed me with all Thy storms.

7 Thou hast put away mine acquaintance far from me : and made me to be abhorred of them.

8 I am so fast in prison : that I can-not get forth.

9 My sight faileth for very trouble : Lord, I have called daily upon Thee,* I have stretched forth my hands un-to Thee.

mf 10 Dost Thou shew wonders among the dead : or shall the dead rise up again, and praise Thee ?

11 Shall Thy loving-kindness be shewed in the grave : or Thy faithfulness in destruction ?

12 Shall Thy wondrous works be known in the dark : and thy righteousness in the land where all things are forgotten ?

13 Unto Thee have I cried, O Lord : and early shall my prayer come before Thee.

p 14 Lord, why abhorrest Thou my soul : and hidest Thou Thy face from me ?

15 I am in misery,* and like unto him that is at the point to die : even from my youth up* Thy terrors have I suffered with a troubled mind.

16 Thy wrathful displeasure goeth over me: and the fear of Thee hath undone me.

18 My lovers and friends hast Thou put away from me : and hid mine acquaintance out of my sight.

Lent.

Miserere.

¶ Then shall they all kneel upon their knees, and the Priest and Clerks kneeling (in the place where they are accustomed to say the Litany), shall say this Psalm

PSALM 51. Miserere mei, Deus.

* A. H. BROWN.

(Minor.)

♯ HAVE mercy upon me, O God,* âfter Thy great goodness : according to the multitude of Thy mērcies dô away mine offences.

♯ Wash me throughly from my wick-ed-ness : ând cleānse mē from my sin.

3 For I acknôw-ledge mÿ faults : ând my sñ is ever be-före me.

4 Against Thee only have I sinned,* and dône this é-vil in Thy sight : that Thou mightest be justified in Thy sâying, and cléar when Thou art judg-ed.

5 Behôld, I was shâ-pen in wick-ed-ness : and in sñ hath my mô-ther con-ceiv-ed me.

♯ 6 But lo,* Thou requîrest trûth in the in-ward parts : and shalt make me to ûnderstând wis-dom se-cret-ly.

7 Thou shalt purge me with hÿssop, and I shall be cleān : Thou shalt wâsh me,* and I shall bë whi-ter than snow.

8 Thou shalt make me hêar of jôy and glâd-ness : that the bônes which Thôu hast brok-en may re-joice.

10 Mâke me a cleān heart, O God : and renêw a right spi-rit with-in me.

11 Cast me nôt âwây from Thy prēs-ence : and tâke not Thy hó-ly Spi-rit from me.

12 O give me the cômfort of Thy help a-gain : and stâblish me with Thy frêe Spi-rit.

mf 13 Then shall I teach Thy wâys ún-to the wick-ed : and sñners shall bë con-vert-ed un-to Thee.

♯ 14 Deliver me from blood-guilti-ness, O God,* Thôu that ârt the God of my health : and my tôngue shall sng of Thy right-eous-ness.

(Major.) mf 15 Thôu shalt ó-pen my lips, O Lord : ând my móuth shall shêw Thy praise.

16 For Thou desîrest no sacri-fice,* êlse would I give it Thee : but Thou delíghtest nôt in brûnt-of-fer-ings.

♯ 17 The sacrifice of Gôd is a trôu-bled spi-rit : a broken and contrite hêart, O Gôd, shalt Thôu not de-spise.

mf 18 O be favourable and grâ-cious ún-to Sî-on : búild Thou the wâlls of Je-ru-sa-lem.

19 Then shalt Thou be pleased with the sacrifice of righteousness,* with the burnt-ôfferings ând ob-lâ-tions : then shall they..ôffer young búllocks up-on Thine Al-tar.

Glôry be to the Fâ-ther, and to the Son : ând tô the Ho-ly Ghost ;

As it was in the begínning, is nów, and ever shall be : wôrld withôut ênd A-men.

Church Music,

BY

Mr. ARTHUR HENRY BROWN,
BRENTWOOD.

I.

*Now ready, fcap. 8vo., cloth limp, red edges, 1s., or 1s. 1½d. post free.
To the Clergy or Organists, 19s. per 25.*

The Gregorian Canticles.

The Canticles newly adapted to the Old Church Tones, with the occasional introduction of Choral Harmony. Uniform with the "Gregorian Psalter."

. This most comprehensive adaptation of the Gregorian Tones to the Canticles contains 127 melodies, some harmonized throughout, and each with harmonized Gloria.

"The method adopted by Mr. Brown is simple, and will be easily learnt even by stupid choirfolk. Should this work be adopted in any choir, we believe it will be found all that is needful for some years to come. Uncertainty and change in choral matters are undesirable, especially for the congregation, therefore a work which supplies sufficient material for a long time is always to be preferred to a smaller work, merit being equal."—Church Times.

"We have before us a manual which deserves to be known and used wherever the Ancient Catholic Tones are honoured and appreciated."—Reunion Magazine.

"This neat and well got-up volume, the orthodox look of which must gladden the heart of our High Church friends. We have no hesitation in recommending the work to all who admire the chants of the old Christian Church."—Musical Gazette.

*Fcap. 8vo., cloth, red edges, 2s. 6d., or post free, 2s. 9d.
To the Clergy or Organists, £2 10s. per 25.*

The Gregorian Psalter.

The Psalms Newly Adapted to the Old Church Tones, with the Occasional Introduction of Choral Harmony.

"Mr. Arthur H. Brown's name is already so well and so favourably known in connection with Gregorian music, that his new 'Gregorian Psalter' will be sure of a welcome reception from many choirs. It includes the entire Psalter, with a suitable Venite for each morning, and special settings for the proper Psalms on the four great festivals. Its peculiarity among Gregorian Psalters is that it introduces suitable Harmonies occasionally in the course of the Psalms and at the Gloria. There will, no doubt, be great difference of opinion about this; for our own part, we think well of it; and Mr. A. H. Brown's well-earned reputation is a guarantee to the clergy that he will involve them in no rash or ill-considered experiment. Our own feeling has always been that at least occasional harmony was a necessary concession to modern ears, in order to give Gregorian music a fair chance of success. We don't see how it can be better done than it is here."—Literary Churchman.

"A contribution of real value to Church music."—Church Times.

Fcap. 8vo., cloth, red edges, 3s. 6d., or post free, 3s. 10d.

To the Clergy or Organists, £3 10s. per 25.

The Gregorian Canticles and Psalter.

Newly Adapted to the Old Church Tones, with the Occasional Introduction of Choral Harmony.

IV.

Crown 8vo., 3d., post free.

The Canticles of Holy Church.

Set to some of their Ancient Tones.

Of the III Chant Tunes here given, three only are as in "Helmores," to which this work will serve as a Supplement.

"In those churches in which the use of Gregorian chants prevails, this little book ought to be greatly valued. The settings include some elegant variations from the Paris, Rouen, Aachen (Aix-la-Chapelle), and other methods. The words are neatly pointed, and the genius of plain-song is happily preserved."—The Choir.

"This is a collection of Church Chants which it would contribute to impart a devotional spirit to many a Church congregation to have in use, rather than those undevotional and unsuitable ones that now so greatly prevail. They are emphatically Church tones—the legitimate and characteristic Cantic music of the Church; and no thoughtful and devout Churchman who has ever been accustomed to such can tolerate, on account of their secular and general unsuitableness, the strangely popular modern Anglican chants. Mr. Brown has done good service to the musical ritualism of the Church of England in preparing a collection of this kind adapted to her Canticles. His high reputation as an orthodox Church musician is not only sustained, but will be extended by it."—Literary Churchman.

V.

Complete Edition, royal 8vo., 8s. 6d., cloth.

Organ Harmonies for the Gregorian Psalm Tones,

Containing Eight different Harmonies for each Tone and each Ending, amounting in all to 1377 variations.

"A series of organ harmonies on a scale of encyclopædic elaborateness. The object of this work is, of course, to assist organists who are diffident as to their extempore thorough-bass. If these will only conscientiously make themselves masters of what is here set down, they may depend not only on getting through their work respectably, but on being able to conciliate the public in favour of the ancient Psalm melodies."—Church Times.

"It is difficult to supply gracious and pliable harmonies for the ancient modes, a difficulty occasioned by the modern scale system. Mr. A. H. Brown has, with characteristic good taste, pursued a medium course. His harmonies are mostly of a simple, quaint, and solid character. The book before us will be most useful."—Choir.

Metrical Litanies for Use in Church,

Set to Music.

"One of the cheapest and most useful books for public service that we have seen. Both music and words are admirable, the former excellent, with due Church characteristics, and yet most telling and simple melodies."—Penny Post.

VIII.

The Mattin and Vesper Canticles of Holy Church.

Set to Anglican Chants of Ecclesiastical character.

"This little book will be a real boon to choirs and lovers of music, whether at Church or at home. There are 165 chants of sterling character, none florid, more than half of which are the compositions of such well-known men of the genuine English school as Tallis, Purcell, Byrde, Weldon, Greene, &c., while the remainder are from the more modern pens (but not style) of Turle, Ouseley, Monk, Helmore, and the Editor himself. The whole is arranged in the most practical manner with reference to the words, which are very clearly and admirably pointed. It is a marvel of cheapness, and deserves, and must have, a large sale."—Essex Times.

Missa Scraphica :

THE OFFICE OF HOLY COMMUNION.

Containing a Setting of the Introit, Kyrie Eleison, Gloria Tibi, Credo, Sanctus, Benedictus, O Salutaris, Agnus Dei, Domine, non sum dignus, and Gloria in Excelsis.

“Choirmasters will find in this service a welcome addition to their list, because, first it is complete; secondly, it is within the compass of ordinary singers; and, thirdly, it is written in a style which is a happy medium between the severe Anglican, and that adopted by more modern writers. The whole service is carefully written and, we doubt not, will be very generally adopted.”—Church Times.
